Argument ends with death of homeless man

BY D.C. HARVILL

A Hancock County man has been charged with murder, allegedly having used a high-powered hunting rifle to kill a homeless man who had been staying with him and his family.

When Hancock County Sheriff's officers arrived at the Cain Street home of Van John Favre, at about 11:30 p.m., they found the body of Jerry Wayne Hunnicutt lying just inside the rear entrance to the small wood-frame house, according to Chief Sheriff's Deputy Delbert Seay.

Hunnicutt, 39, died from a gunshot to the head, apparently from a 30/30 caliber rifle. He was pronounced dead at the scene by Hancock Medical Examiner Harold Stiglet, Seay said.

Evidence gathered at the scene indicates that the shooting occurred in Favre's yard and that Hunnicutt's body had been dragged into the house, according to Seay.

Seay would not elaborate on whether a knife found in the victim's hand had actually been wielded by him.

The 43-year-old Favre was arrested at the scene and charged with murder. At an arraignment hearing Wednesday afternoon, Judge Lee Klein set his bail at $50,000.

The investigators estimate that the shooting occurred between 10 and 10:30 p.m.

Hunnicutt had been living out of his automobile until he began staying with the Favres, where he had lived for several months, according to Seay.

It was unknown Wednesday where Hunnicutt was from, but he is thought to have been in the vending machine business.

Favre, a Hancock County native, apparently was unemployed and drawing disability benefits, Seay said.

Hunnicutt had been dropped off at the Favre residence between 10 and 10:30 p.m. and an argument between him and Favre, erupted shortly thereafter, according to Seay.

Favre said the argument started when he told Hunnicutt to leave his property. Favre then went to get the gun from another room and followed the victim into the yard where he shot him once in the head, Seay said.

Favre's wife and three children, three to 10-years-old, were in the house at the time of the shooting. His wife, who was in the kitchen cutting meat to be stored in a freezer, heard the argument but did not actually witness the murder, Seay said.

The children were asleep when the shooting occurred, he said.

Chief Criminal Investigator Glen Strong is in charge of the investigation with assistance from Criminal Investigator Nathan Hoda and Seay.

Car, school bus collide, students escape injury

BY DENA BISNETTE

About 40 students were on a Hancock County School bus involved in an accident on Interstate 10 Tuesday afternoon, but only the driver of a passenger car wedged under the rear of the vehicle was reported injured.

State Trooper Eugene Little, who is investigating the accident, said Wednesday that he doesn't know yet what caused the wreck.

"I'm thankful none of the kids were hurt," he said.

The wreck occurred at about 4 p.m. in the westbound lane of I-10 near the 7.5 mile marker. Little arrived shortly afterward to find a 1988 Chevrolet Corsica stuck under the rear section of the bus and the students, mostly high school-aged, standing next to the highway.

The driver of Corsica, Carlos M. Gonzales, 31, of Metairie, was taken by Mobile Medic Ambulance Service to Slidell Memorial Hospital, where he was treated for minor injuries, Little said.

The bus driver, Glenda C. Chiasson of Bay St. Louis, had somehow managed to pull the bus onto the shoulder of the highway after the collision, he added.

Despite the fact that the bus itself was not blocking traffic, one lane of the interstate had to be closed for about an hour to allow emergency personnel to work at the accident scene.

"The kids were already off the bus, so we put them back on and had them come off one at a time. We had Mobile Medic personnel check on them as they came out of the bus," Little explained.

A second bus was brought to the site to move the students, but several school district personnel stayed on the scene as a wrecker tried to pull the car loose from the bus.

When the smaller vehicle was freed, a reverse imprint of the bus tag stayed on its folded-up hood.

Little said no citations were issued at the scene.

Assisting him in the investigation were Master Sgt. David Kenny and Sgt. J.L. Johnson of the Mississippi Highway Patrol. Hancock County Sheriff's Department deputies provided traffic control.

Father and son arrested for kidnapping Bay man

BY D.C. HARVILL

A father and son have been arrested for allegedly kidnapping a Bay St. Louis man at gunpoint and driving him around town on the hood of their car.

Norbert Kohnke, 45, 103 Third Ave. Pass Christian and Grant Kohnke, 19, 759 North Second St., Bay St. Louis, were arrested at 1:19 a.m. Saturday by police officers at the Bay Police station, according to Investigator Tom Burleson.

Grant Kohnke is charged with kidnapping, contempt of court, disorderly conduct, resisting arrest and carrying a concealed weapon. His father has been charged with kidnapping and carrying a concealed weapon.

The elder Kohnke had contacted Bay Police earlier in the morning with a complaint about his son being beat up at a party on Third Street in Bay St. Louis, according to the investigator.

"The chief (Ray Murphy) told him to come down to the station and file charges against the person who beat up his son," Burleson said.

Before going to the station, the duo went to the corner of Sycamore and St. Francis where the younger Kohnke identified Bryan Laneaux as having been the person who assaulted him, Burleson said.

Laneaux was determined not to have been involved in the fight, Burleson said.

According to witnesses, the Kohnkes pointed guns at Laneaux and told him to get on the hood of the car, telling him if he moved they would kill him, Burleson said.

With Laneaux on the hood, at gunpoint, they drove down Sycamore to Blaize Avenue, along Blaize, then over to Bookter Street along which they drove back to Old Spanish Trail and the police station, Burleson said.

The pair walked into the station with their guns drawn and officers had to physically take the gun from the younger Kohnke, according to the officer. The father handed over his weapon, he said.

"They said they were making a citizen's arrest," Burleson said.

Norbert Kohnke has been released on a $5,000 bond, his son is out on an $11,600 bond. They are scheduled for a September 27 court appearance.

School board may auction surplus

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Bay-Waveland School Board is considering following the examples of Hancock County and Bay St. Louis in disposing of surplus property.

The board agreed Monday to authorize its superintendent, Robert Magee, to look into the possibility of setting up an auction to dispose of various items

Magee described as "no longer useful to the school system."

"The county and Bay St. Louis did so well, I think we should try it if we can," Board President Charles Benvenuti stated.

Bay St. Louis and Hancock County were selling backhoes, trucks and other items used for the same sort of work when the two entities got together for an auction at the county's central maintenance barn earlier this month, Magee said.

He explained that it might be impractical to move all of the items the district's four schools have for sale.

He proposed that instead, the auction be set up to move from school to school, but to hold all the proceedings the same day.

When and if the school district will actually be able to have an auction has not yet been determined. However, county and city officials say they found hiring a professional auctioneer to be more successful than trying to attract bids on their surplus items through leg-

ASRM public meeting scheduled for Tuesday

BY D.C. HARVILL

A public meeting on the potential impact of NASA's Advanced Solid Rocket Motor (ASRM) test proposed for Stennis Space Center and the state's environmental permitting procedure for the tests will be 7 p.m. Tuesday at the Hancock County Community Center, Hancock County Fair Grounds on Longfellow Drive.

The meeting, being conducted by the Mississippi Bureau of Pollution Control, is being held to explain the proposed project and the procedure the state will go through in reviewing and issuing permits for the tests. Also the public will be given an opportunity to comment on the project.

A number residents and politicians in Hancock and Pearl River County as well as St. Tammany Parish have expressed concern that the test will damage not only the environment, but also the health of people living in the area.

State Representatives J.P. Compretta in Hancock County and Gerry Hinton in St. Tammany Parish have publicly questioned the safety of the al advertisements for bids.

City Clerk Kay Johnson said Bay St. Louis sold six pieces of old equipment belonging to the city's public works department for a total of $11,655 after the auctioneer's fee was deducted.

Public Works Director Norbert Redmond explained that the estimated value of the equipment would have been probably only $8,000 to $10,000 if it had been sold through the traditional advertising and bidding process.

"Basically, with bidding, comparatively what you'll get is extremely low. People buying it don't really know as much about it and are taking a shot in the dark," Redmond said.

"The particular auctioneer who handled this one has a lot of people on a mailing list. They do this for a living and have a better idea of what they want to buy."

The auctioneer, Don Durham Auctioneers of Petal, impressed also was able to sell more than 20 items in about an hour, Johnson added.

Hancock County Maintenance Superintendent Sam Cuevas, said about 12 pieces of old road machinery and some old vehicles for $27,220. Only two items were not sold because they brought in bids of less than the minimum amount for which the county was willing to sell.

However, those two items, both backhoes, are still useable to some extent, Cuevas said.

About 60 bidders showed up for the event.

"I would definitely recommend it to someone else," said Cuevas. "I feel that we did quite well."

Redmond could not recommend the procedure for the school district without knowing what kind of surplus items the board is trying to sell.

"They might have desks and chairs and stuff, or maybe a few buses. I don't know how well it would work with that kind of stuff," he said.

However, he commented that if the items are of an appropriate type, "They could raise a lot of money they didn't expect to

The money raised by the county, for example, will be used to purchase new equipment. Cuevas also said the money from the auction would go back into his department.

Cuevas hopes to make the auction an annual event if need be. Redmond said he will probably continue advertising for bids when the city has only a few items to sell, but favors using the auction again.

Nation to observe POW/MIA Recognition Day, Sept. 15

The Veterans Administration joins the nation in saluting former prisoners of war and those veterans still missing in action Sept. 15—National POW/MIA Recognition Day.

Nationwide, there are approximately 78,000 living American former POWs from all wars and 2,100 Americans officially listed as missing in southeast Asia. In Mississippi, there are about 600 ex-POWs and 18 MIAs.

Legislative changes since 1981 eased criteria for former POWs to establish service connection for certain disabilities. The latest change added peripheral neuropathy, irritable bowel syndrome and peptic ulcer disease to the list of disabilities which can be presumed service connected for ex-POWs who were interned 30 days or more.

In addition, new laws improved benefits by reducing the number of days of internment required for comprehensive dental treatment from 180 to 90 days, and added several radiogenic diseases on a presumptive basis for those POWs exposed to radiation in Hiroshima or Nagasaki.

Treatment is available at VA medical centers and outpatient clinics nationwide. Treatment in non-VA facilities at government expense is not authorized.

Veterans rated at 30 percent or more qualify for a dependency allowance. Dependents of veterans rated 100 percent may qualify for educational assistance.

Widows of veterans rated 100 percent for 10 years prior to death are eligible for dependency and indemnity compensation, as are widows of veterans whose deaths are service connected. Amount of payment is based on the veteran's highest military grade.

For further assistance and information, veterans and widows may contact the Jackson VA Regional Office between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

The statewide toll-free number is 1-800-682-5270. In the Gulfport/Biloxi area, call 432-5996.

THIS LAND IS YOUR LAND

By Joe Pilet
Friendship Oak DAR

Conserving water is our responsibility

"I Want the Waiter with the Water" was considered a high humor song some years ago.

Today, through such educational clubs as The Nature Conservancy, the Sierra Club and other organizations and individuals concerned with our dwindling water supply, we have come to realize that conserving water is our responsibility. If we are not a part of the solution then it follows that we are, indeed, a part of the problem.

There are things that each and everyone of our citizens can do to economize on water usage.

Let us consider some of them: It is not necessary when brushing teeth to keep the water constantly running. By placing a dish pan under the sink faucet, water can accumulate as hands are washed when preparing food, etc. This accumulated water then can be used to water potted plants.

Almost every person finds it both convenient and frugal to wash delicate lingerie and linens by hand. The purest of soaps and detergents are used. By use of a spray can this water be sprinkled on plants. This is an excellent insect repellent! This mild soapy water can be safely used to mop the floors. Use the rinse water, too, to remove all traces of suds.

With the use of a sponge this water can also be used for general cleaning of porch and patio furnishings—or with steel wool to clean the grills.

It is amazing to discover for yourself how much water you can use without turning on the spigot. Then if you are good at math you might multiply the estimated amount of water you have saved by the population of your community or your state. It is truly mind boggling!

Let us get into the habit of doing more with less water. Remember, we have to operate before we can cooperate in our endeavor to conserve. I want the waiter with the water!

ST. ANN CHURCH NEWS

A thought for meditation from our pastor Father Justin Furman, ST.

The Cross is a sign that provokes us to love, to worship, to gratitude, to thanksgiving, to service.

—Father Judge

Life is Brief

Time is such a precious thing, We should value every minute

And bless the world with kindly deeds

The short time we live in it.

—Loretta Inman
According to teen advisors Suzette Ladner and Tiffany Baughmann, Saturday, Sept. 30 St. Ann-St. John CYO will sponsor a dance for teens 12 to 18 years in the parish hall from 8 p.m. until midnight.

Popular local D. J. Mart Ward will provide the music for dancing. Admission is $2 per person.

Suzette, with several CYO members, attended the CYO workshop held recently in Iberville.

Registration for CCD classes will be in October. Date will be announced later.

Choir practice continues 6 p.m. each Thursday at St. Ann Church before the 7 p.m. evening mass. Membership is open to everyone willing to help with the singing during the masses.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

On Friday night the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws will play host to the East Central Hornets.

The Rocks are off to a good start this season with two victories. They were really rolling in last week's win over Bay High's Tigers.

The Hornets are also undefeated this season, and they will be trying to put the sting to the Rock-A-Chaws and spoil their victory string.

Hancock North Central's Hawks continued their winning ways last week with a victory over arch rival Pearl River Central.

This week the Hawks will play host to the Poplarville Hornets.

Poplarville always seems to be in top form when they play the Hawks.

The Hawks appear to have one of the best teams in the area this season.

This is a rebuilding year for the Tigers of Bay High and the team will need some superb play to take a victory from Pearl River Central.

The Tigers are not short on desire, just short in number of squad members. They played very tough last week for the first half against St. Stanislaus.

The Tigers could possibly upset Pearl River Central with a few breaks and extra team effort.

The Pirates of Pass Christian will travel this week to play Sumrall.

The Pirates looked very good in their opening game loss to St. Stanislaus.

Sumrall will be a good challenge for the Pirates. The Coast Episcopal Raiders will play at home this week against Rankin Academy.

The Raiders are looking for their first victory of this season.

Coast Episcopal's game is Saturday at 7 p.m. at the St. Stanislaus field in Bay St. Louis.

Remember, your local high school teams need your support in the stands.

We hope to see you at the game.

Preparations are underway for the Hancock County's involvement in the annual coastal cleanup scheduled for Saturday, September 23.

The history of these cleanups is a bit interesting. As I can recall, several years ago the Hancock County Sand Beach Advisory Council, Chamber of Commerce, Cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland, Extension Service and Board of Supervisors all pushed a 'Clean Our Beach Day' in Hancock County.

The next year The Mississippi Marine Task Force was formed involving the three coastal counties of Hancock, Harrison and Jackson. A 'Clean Our Beach Day' was held for the three counties.

Last year's cleanup also included the Gulf states of Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and Florida.

This year's cleanup will include nationally all states with beaches and islands.

I am sure we would all like to think the waterway cleanup was our idea, but it was probably done elsewhere before we even thought about it.

In Hancock County this year it will be sponsored by the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the Board of Supervisors, Cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland and the Extension Service.

The cleanup date is about 10 days from now, and pre-registration of groups or individuals can be done by calling the Chamber of Commerce at 467-9048.

The cleanup area will be from the mouth of the Jourdan River to the mouth of Bayou Cadet.

Areas will be assigned and plastic bags will be provided.

Registrations will also be on the morning of the cleanup beginning at 8 a.m. at Ulman Avenue and Beach Boulevard, Garfield Ladner Memorial Fishing Pier at Beach Boulevard and next to Garcia's Grocery at the railroad in Clermont Harbor.

We will be giving you more information on the cleanup next week.

KEY CLUB RECEIVES CERTIFICATE—Mark Distefano, president of the St. Stanislaus Key Club, receives a Certificate of Appreciation from JoAnn Lagasse, executive director of the Hancock County Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP). ## THE PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

From the Mississippi Economic Council

Tax system needs changing

In Mississippi, it seems we are always spending money to study ourselves. Often, these studies are voluminous piles of paper that contain a single bit of useful information. On many occasions, that bit of information is rarely acted upon.

Take for example the governor's reorganization plan. A study of the governmental structure concluded that $64 million could be saved through reorganization. What was signed into law, however, was considerably less than the $64 million proposed savings.

Therefore, knowing that more studies, panels, commissions, et cetera are on the way, let us offer one more for serious consideration.

The Mississippi Economic Council recommends an independent study of the state's tax system.

Here are some principles recommended by MEC:

- * Separate the administrative and judicial responsibilities of the Tax Commission.

- * Evaluate the effectiveness of some of the old economic development tax incentives.

- * Remove unnecessary and duplicated government services, i.e., clerks, superintendents, etc.

- * Grant more flexibility to local governments in levying taxes.

- * Eliminate exemptions and reductions where there is no clear benefit.

- * And, eliminate the tax on inventories to encourage distribution centers to come to the state.

The intent here is not to point fingers. These plus a few others, however, are the findings of an MEC committee chaired by Bill Cole, former state treasurer.

Finding the key for tax reform is the duty of the Legislature. But seeing that it gets done will be the responsibility of taxpayers.

With that in mind, may we offer one additional recommendation.

Mississippians should resist any further tax increases until state and local governments take demonstrable steps toward reducing the size of government and improving governmental efficiency.

Q. What is the difference between the State Guard and the National Guard?
A. The National Guard is a dual purpose, federally funded, state operated military organization responsible for the state's security and tranquility but capable of being mobilized in a national emergency. If the National Guard is mobilized for federal service, the State Guard has responsibility for providing for the state's needs in cases of natural disasters, civil disturbances and other breaches of the state's security or tranquility.

Biloxi donates to Vietnam memorial

The Mississippi Vietnam Veterans Memorial Committee received a pledge from the City of Biloxi whereby the city council has agreed to donate the sum of $25,000 out of the 1989-90 budget.

The city has also invited the memorial chairman back to make a similar request in order that they may consider a $25,000 donation from the 1990-91 budget.

The Mississippi Vietnam Veterans Committee was formed in November, 1988, to create a living, teaching memorial to honor all Mississippi Vietnam veterans. The proposed site is a point of land near Biloxi on the Gulf Coast. The site was dedicated on Veterans Day 1988.

Governor Ray Mabus signed legislation in March, 1989, authorizing the creation of the memorial on the Coast and giving authority to the Mississippi Vietnam Veterans Memorial Committee Inc. to collect funds for the memorial.

Counties and municipalities also can donate to the memorial from general funds. A broad-based committee of concerned individuals is working to make the memorial a reality.

During the Vietnam War, 639 Mississippians were killed in Vietnam. Another 16 are declared missing in action. The memorial, to be designed and built by Mississippians, will honor those who served and those who died in that war. Recently, Henry J. Cook, chairman of Mississippi Vietnam Veterans Memorial Committee, met with the Mississippi Congressional delegation to discuss plans for the memorial. The delegation gave the project its full support.

For more information about the Vietnam Veterans memorial or to make a donation, contact Cook at (601) 466-4371.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Parent congratulates team, parents, players

To the Editor:

I would like to address this to the coaches, players, faculty, students and parents of St. Stanislaus High School.

As a spectator and parent of one of the players of Friday night's football game against Bay High School, it seemed our team did not get the opportunity to offer the customary handshake and congratulations and in return receive the "good game." It appeared to me this was due to circumstances beyond their control.

As parents, I would venture to say that we are all trying to teach our children virtues to carry through life, such as playing the game with intensity, winning with pride or losing with grace.

So, with that in mind, my family and I would like to offer our congratulations, and see you next year!

Carolyn Favre

Mobile Medic's quick response saves life

To the Editor:

Three cheers for Mobile Medic.

Last Saturday I had the misfortune of riding my lawnmower across a yellow jackets' nest. The occupants responded swiftly and 26 hit home, reduced me to nothing with a 90/60 blood pressure reading.

Luckily, my wife was close by and hit the 911 signal. In a few minutes Mobil Medic was there, stabilized the worthless remains, and our Hancock hospital did the rest.

This was the second time in one year I was subjected to the wasp sting misery, and being deadly allergic to the poison, I can truthfully say that, had it not been for the lightning-fast response of Mobile Medic, I would not be writing this.

Members'ip in that outfit is the best investment ever.

Thanks, ladies, for saving my life!

Reader considers Pilet's comments

Dear Editor:

Isn't it wonderful that we have Mrs. Joe Pilet's witticisms, puns and gay repartee (Letters to the Editor, Re: Humane Society Shelter) to remind us that we should take no issue of public concern seriously? Long live apathy. Long live this 'Herald of Ribald Disinformation'!

WASHINGTON REPORT

By Senator Thad Cochran

Cochran cites Larkin Smith as 'hard-working congressman'

U.S. Senator Thad Cochran praised the late Congressman Larkin Smith as a hard worker who had quickly won the respect of colleagues for his expertise in criminal justice and the war on drug trafficking.

In a floor speech as Congress resumed work following Labor Day, Senator Cochran stated:

"Mr. President, my state suffered a great loss during the August recess when Larkin Smith, who represented the Fifth District of Mississippi in the House of Representatives, was killed in a plane crash. He had been elected last November and he was already making a very fine impression on everyone who observed him at work. His background and experience in law enforcement gave him unusual insight into many of the issues that came before the House Judiciary Committee on which he served."

"It is really unusual for a Member of Congress to establish himself as an influential legislator in his first term; the seniority system can operate against you if you try to do too much too soon. But Larkin Smith was an exception to this rule. He spoke out when he felt there were better ways of dealing with criminals such as drug dealers and drug smugglers. He had good ideas. The nation will miss having the benefit of his experience and judgment on these important matters of concern."

"Larkin Smith was also a very fine human being. He was a pleasure to work with in solving problems that faced our state. I do not know of anyone who could have worked harder and more effectively. He gave the job of U.S. Congressman everything he had. As a matter of fact, he gave his life. We miss him very much and our sympathies are extended to his wife Sheila and all his family during this very difficult time in their lives."

Senator Cochran also attended a memorial service for Smith, held at a Capitol Hill church that evening.

ILLEGAL DUMPING—Illegal dumping continues to be a problem in Hancock County. This pile of debris was dumped off the seawall on North Beach, Bay St. Louis. A nationwide effort will be made on Saturday, Sept. 23 to clean beaches and islands.

Hancock County will participate with a Chamber of Commerce sponsored Beach Cleanup. It is about time folks realize the importance of not throwing litter into our waterways. (Echo staff photo by Dena Bisnette).

Studio tour to feature 12 artists

BY DENA BISNETTE

Twelve Bay St. Louis artists will be featured Sunday in an open studio tour, beginning at 3 p.m. and continuing until 6 p.m.

Nine of the artists will open their studios to the public. They include Robert Fiedler, 210 Beach Boulevard; Nadine Stamm, 111 Main Street; Jean Hammett and Kat Fitzpatrick, 125 Main; John McDonald, 126 Main; Creations in Stained Glass, 110 South Second Street; David Wallace, 112 South Second Street; Alice Moseley, 214 Bookter St.; and Gerald Bienvenu, 1250 Old Spanish Trail.

The remaining three artists will be featured at Serenity, located at 126 Main in the same building as McDonald's Studio. They include Lucille Luke, Barbara Brodtmann and Jeanne Kruse Warner.

Jerry Dixon, owner of Serenity, said the event is designed to show the public only a few of the many artists in Bay St. Louis.

"For this first one, we want to spotlight 12 of the people we knew of; there are a lot more artists out there and we want them to come out and be seen," said Dixon, who hopes similar studio tours can be arranged as an annual or seasonal event.

"People will get to actually go into the studios and see art in progress," he added. "They'll be able to talk to the artists about the creative process."

Dixon said he knows of no other programs in the area which feature art in progress rather than completed works.

"Bay St. Louis is an artists' community and we're beginning to recognize it. It always has been one; artists have been coming here for years, but there hasn't been anything to put the artists in Bay St. Louis, Dixon learned something else which has helped inspire his wish to make the public more aware of the various kinds of talents he has found here.

"The artists here are always giving. They are quick to donate their work or their talents when help is needed," he said.

"Art comes from the heart and giving is a part of that."

The types of art being featured include photography, stained glass, basketry and various types of painting. The photography is by Robert Fiedler, whose primary focus is in the architectural and natural beauty of Bay St. Louis. His and she said she often draws her inspiration from the bayou on which she lives.

Fitzpatrick, who has been working with her mother for the past six years, works primarily with oils and pastels. Portraits are among her specialties. She studied art at University of New Orleans, but got her degree in photography from University of Florida.

John McDonald, a native Mississippian, has a master of fine arts from Yale University. His primary interest is the landscape of the south. Among his works in progress is a 19-by-four-foot panorama of Mississippi being painted for a private residence.

A graduate of Cranbrook School of Art in Bloomfield Hills, Mich., who has also studied at Hillsdale College and Syracuse University, Barbara Brodtmann has been painting since age two. She prefers watercolors and her favorite subjects are animals and the outdoors.

Jeanne Kruse Warner, using an expressionistic style influenced by Impressionism, depicts al fresco scenes of Bay St. Louis. Her work depicts sunbathers, sailboats and colorful skies, as well as some of her own childhood memories.

David Wallace, a gallery artist who graduated from University of Southern Mississippi and is currently being featured in the Carol Robinson Gallery in New Orleans, paints mostly abstracts and landscapes. He has been in Bay St. Louis for two years and gives art lessons for children and adults, emphasizing creative and formal development.

Self-taught folk artist Alice Moseley started painting at age 60 and has now been an artist for about 20 years, depicting nostalgic scenes that feature bright color and humor. Her works have been collected throughout the U.S.

Gerald Bienvenu paints landscapes and seascapes in a realistic style. He has been a professional artist for more than 20 years and was one of 12 artists accepted into the American Watercolor Society's 121st National Exhibit last year in New York. Many of his originals are now in private and corporate collections.

Jean Hammett and Kat Fitzpatrick

spotlight on them," he said.

He explained that most of the existing galleries he found when he moved to Bay St. Louis featured a single artist or perhaps two artists rather than a variety of works.

"I recognized this the first Christmas after I had opened my shop, when I was vice-president of the Downtown Business Association," added Dixon, explaining that the association had decided that particular year to ask local artists to paint holiday scenes on large wooden placards. The results were hung from lamp posts along Main Street or mounted in front of downtown businesses.

"We asked these people on Thursday and by Sunday we had all these placards."

In addition to learning something about the number of work is inspirational in style.

Peter Ewalt, whose gallery is called Creations in Stained Glass, specializes in custom design work in beveled and etched glass as well as stained glass. He designs work for each individual client and oversees installation, but he produces smaller stained and beveled items in addition to the larger pieces for doors, windows and other decorating work.

Lucille Luke creates original designs for pine needle baskets and will demonstrate her craft during the tour. One of her previous demonstrations took her to the New Orleans World's Fair in 1984. Currently, she is teaching various crafts at the Senior Citizens Center in Bay St. Louis.

We've Been Making Loans For 99 Years

Since 1890, we've been making loans to homeowners so we've really got the hang of it.

And it follows that we'd know the ins and outs of car financing. That's why thrifty Hancock and Harrison County car buyers come to us for their automobile financing.

Maybe that's why it is so difficult to find a parking place.

So when you can't resist that new car smell, or those sleek new lines, come on in to any Peoples Federal location. We'll help you find the most economical way to finance that special car—because we're frugal, too.

Announcing the First Baby program at Slidell Memorial Hospital

Announcing the First Baby program at Slidell Memorial Hospital

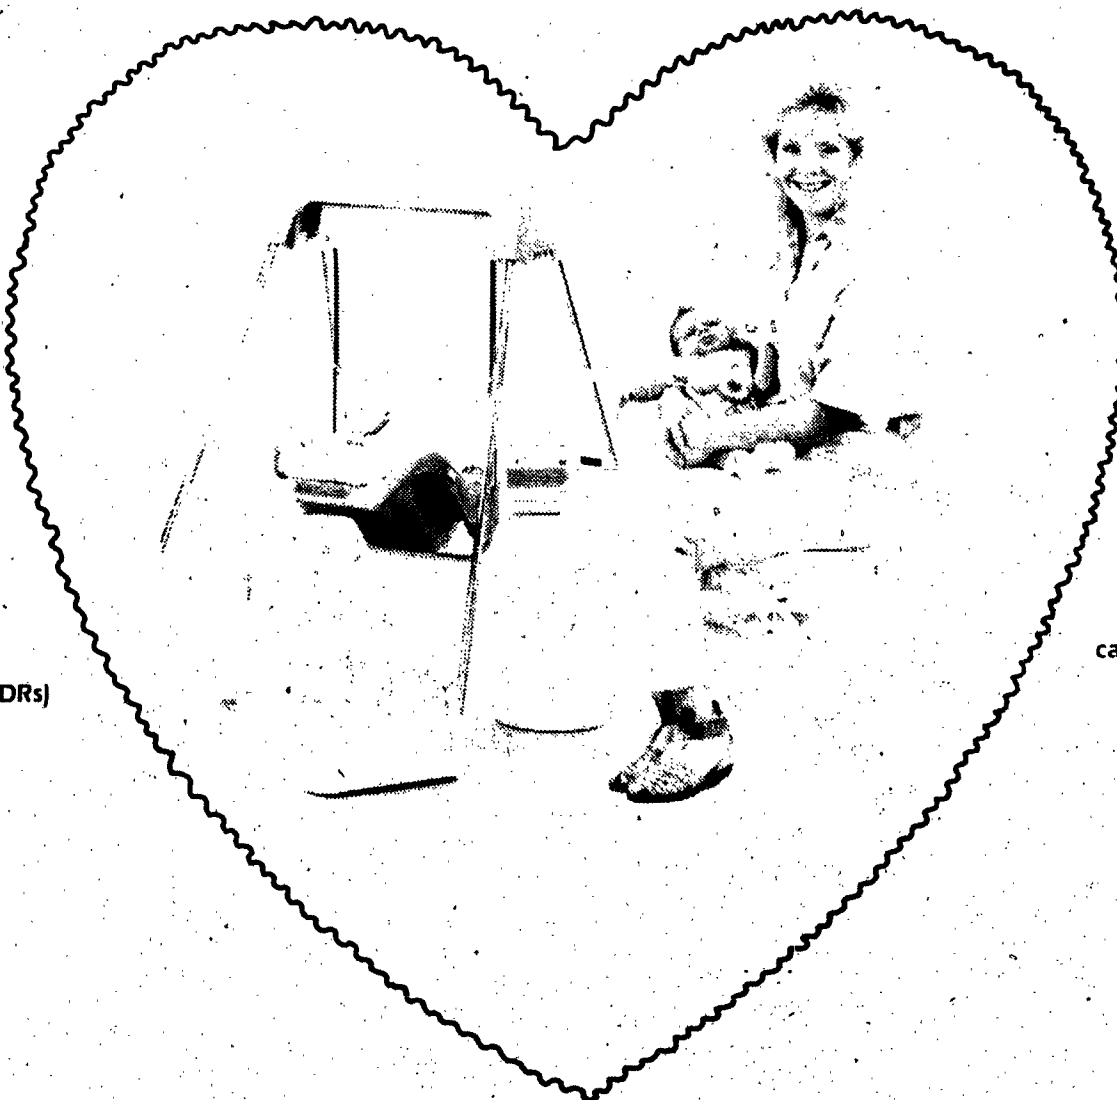

Your first pregnancy is a special event that brings many changes into your life, and it's difficult to know what to expect. Slidell Memorial Hospital understands that your needs are different from other expectant women, so we've developed a unique program just for first time mothers.

Special Surprises, Special Moments

Slidell Memorial Hospital's First Baby program welcomes you and your spouse to Parenthood with a special first time Baby Shower, complete with surprises and amenities for the first time mother. And, our team of nurses, physicians, and staff are always available to answer your questions about the experience and expectations of childbirth and parenting.

Comfortable, Safe Surroundings

Our Labor, Delivery and Recovery Suites (LDRs)

provide a warm and comfortable birthing experience for new mothers. This all-in-one-room delivery is part of our one-price maternity package. Slidell Memorial Hospital is the only hospital in the North Lake area with a Neonatal Intensive Care Unit that is staffed around the clock by Neonatologists and a fully-equipped transport team.

Because Your First Baby is Special

Slidell Memorial Hospital has delivered thousands of babies over the last 30 years, giving us the experience and understanding that sets us apart. The First Baby program combines that experience and understanding with the special "extras" a first time mother needs. We'd like to share your First Baby birthing experience at Slidell Memorial Hospital. Just call us at 646-0560 for more information. We'll fill you in on all the special details.

Walkamerica participants honored by March of Dimes

Betsy Ashman, Hancock County Walkamerica Team-walk chairman, announced the names of businesses and individuals honored for their participation in the 1988 Hancock County Walkamerica by the March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation.

The annual meeting and awards dinner of the Magnolia Division, Mississippi Chapter, was held Thursday evening, Aug. 24 at the Holiday Inn on Hwy. 49 in Gulfport.

"On behalf of the March of Dimes," stated Ashman, "we express our deepest appreciation to all individuals, families and businesses who participated in Walkamerica 1988, through their donation of time, effort, money, prayers and/or walking."

Awards of special recognition for Hancock County participation were presented to Walkamerica Chairman Sheriff Ronnie Peterson; Walkamerica committee, Libby Roland, Gail Nami, Jay Lagasse, Bonnie Allison and Nancy Smith.

Outstanding Volunteer Award went to Libby Roland; Sponsor Award, Coast Coca-Cola; Support Award, Bay-Waveland Jaycees and the Hancock County Sheriff's Department.

Bus transportation, the American Legion Post 77; Supporting Businesses Award, Kmart, Sears and A-1 Home

Center; Teamwalk Chairman, Betsy Ashman; 100 Club Award, Hancock County Sheriff's Department, Hancock Insurance Agency and State Farm Insurance.

500 Club Award, Nell Frisbie/Coldwell Bankers; 1000 Club Award, Bay Technical Association and Coast Electric Power Association.

"Team Raising the Most Money" Award, Bay Technical Associates; "Team with the Most Walkers" Award, Bay Technical Associates; and "Team Raising the Most Money per Capita," Coast Electric Power Association.

The "Battered Boot" Award was presented to Betty Alexander of Coast Electric Power Association for raising more than $500.

"Our Hancock County Walkamerica Campaign of 1988 raised a total of $7,164 towards the fight against birth defects. The march continues on Oct. 21 and we hope to exceed last year's total. All Hancock County individuals and businesses are welcome and encouraged to participate in this wonderful endeavor.

"At the awards banquet, emcee Marilyn Vaughn stated that the Hancock County walk, from the Bay Bridge to Bucca-neer Park, is scenically the most beautiful of the walks on the Mississippi Gulf Coast," stated Ashman. For further information or details, interested parties are asked to contact the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce at 467-9048, or Ronnie Peterson, at 467-5101.

Consider fruits, vegetables as entree, dessert options

Meat doesn't always have to be the main attraction of a meal.

Dessert doesn't always have to be the traditional cake, pie or cookies.

How about featuring vegetables in their creative forms instead of meat?

Use your imagination or creative recipes and give fruit a chance to be the "apple" of your meal.

"Although fruits and vegetables are packed with taste and nutrition, they are often overlooked as entree and dessert options. You're missing a lot if you ignore them," said Capt. Stephanie McCann, Food Festival chairperson, American Heart Association (AHA), Mississippi Affiliate.

The American Heart Association's Food Festival (through Sept. 16), a national nutrition event, helps inform consumers about the importance of eating healthful foods and to help cut their risks of heart and blood vessel diseases.

"Vegetables are sensible, healthful ingredients that can complement a meal or easily stand alone as the main dish. Plus they can give your diet a cholesterol and fat break," she said.

In fact, the AHA recommends that you eat meatless or low-fat dishes several times a week. But a meatless meal doesn't have to be tasteless.

The following low-cholesterol, low-fat Zucchini

Cheese Casserole could be the highlight of a meatless meal.

ZUCCHINI CHEESE CASSEROLE

Six servings

Approx. 130 cal. per serving

3 medium zucchini squash
1/2 cup chopped onion
2 fresh tomatoes, sliced
2 tablespoons oil
1 pound low-fat cottage cheese

1 teaspoon basil
1/2 teaspoon oregano
1/3 cup Parmesan cheese

Saute zucchini and chopped onion in oil. Whip cottage cheese with basil and oregano in blender. Place alternating layers of zucchini, cottage cheese and tomato in a 1 1/2-quart casserole dish. Top with Parmesan cheese.

Bake at 350°F, uncovered for 25 to 30 minutes.

Vegetables are packed with vitamins, minerals, potassium and fiber and are low in fats, calories and sodium.

The AHA recommends at least three servings of vegetables every day. One serving equals a half to one cup of cooked or raw vegetables.

Remember, vegetables provide a variety of main entree choices. All you have to do is use your imagination.

Don't desert ripe, sweet, plump, juicy, nutritious fruits as dessert options.

Not only are they great sources to satisfy an after-meal sweet tooth, but they are also cholesterol-free, low in fats and high in vitamins and minerals.

The AHA dietary guidelines for healthy American adults recommend two to three servings of fruit or real fruit juice a day. One serving is equal to a medium-sized piece of fruit or a half cup of fruit juice or canned fruit.

The following dessert recipe from the new "American Heart Association Low-Fat, Low-Cholesterol Cookbook" will be an after-dinner winner.

VERY BERRY SORBET

Two 1/2-cup servings
67 calories per serving

Sorbent
1 1/2 cups frozen no-sugar-added blackberries, slightly defrosted
1 teaspoon frozen orange juice concentrate
2 teaspoons water

1 teaspoon brandy or cogn. (optional)

Garnish
Fresh mint sprigs (optional)

In a blender or the workbowl of a food processor fitted with a metal blade, process sorbet ingredients until smooth, scraping sides as needed. Garnish with mint, if desired. Serve immediately.

This dish can be frozen. About 15 minutes before serving, remove from freezer and let defrost until it's soft enough to serve.

You can find more nutritious, tasty fruit and vegetable recipes in the new "American Heart Association Low-Fat, Low-Cholesterol Cookbook," "The American Heart Association Cookbook-Fourth Edition" or by contacting your local AHA.

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katie McGuire Caire

For years in our household, the coming of Fall signalled, among other delectable seasonal treats, the return of luscious pork roasts and chops to the dinner table, for our family cook frowned upon pork in summer as "too heavy and too rich" for our health.

How Mary would enjoy the pork of these modern days, leaner and lighter, so much so that pork interests promote pork as "the other white meat"—less fatty, ever so tasty, and delicious in many recipes which formerly called for veal or breast of chicken and so on.

So, we may now eat "high on the hog" so to speak, without overdoing on fats and such. Oftentimes, I find myself following Mary's dictum of those long gone days—that fruit of some sort must always be served with pork. While Mary preferred the customary apples or applesauce with pork, I like to pair the pork with citrus fruit at times, as in this recipe:

ORANGE AND SAGE ROAST PORK

2 1/2 to 3 lbs. boneless pork roast

4 Tbsp. butter or margarine

1 tsp. fresh sage, or 1/4 tsp. dried sage

4 Tbsp. sugar

6 Tbsp. red wine vinegar

1/2 cup fresh orange juice

Several orange slices

1 scant cup chicken stock

Pepper, cayenne, salt to your taste

Melt the butter in a heavy skillet over medium heat, and brown the roast on all sides. Place in baking pan and add the sage, sugar, vinegar and stock. Bake, uncovered, for an hour and a half, or until your meat thermometer indicates that the pork is done. (I still test my pork for "doneness" as Mary did—I poke it with the point of a knife; others use a fork.)

Add the orange juice, bathing the pork well, top with orange slices, and return to the oven for 10 minutes longer. Deglaze the juices in the pan, scraping to get the last bits, and stirring well, for your sauce or gravy. (Six servings.)

Note: If you haven't any chicken stock on hand, you may use canned broth or granules to make the stock—but, remember that these are usually saltier than the homemade stock, so you may want to dilute further with a little wine or tomato juice or water.

P.S. This roast has an off-the-beaten-path, tangy flavor. Hope that you like it—I do! And, by the way, if you aren't used to sage in your cooking, use a little less at first, and add more if it suits you.

LOCAL BRIEF

BAND BOOSTERS

The Bay High Band Booster Club needs volunteers to work at a fundraising fair, proposed for Oct. 14 and 15 at the Bay High football field.

The fair will include food, crafts, a dunking booth, pie throwing, games, car wash, plants, cakes, music and other items, with a booth fee of $25 for profit-making groups and $10 for non-profit organizations.

Proceeds from the event, proposed for 1 p.m. until 9 p.m. Oct. 14 and 1 p.m. until 6 p.m. Oct. 15, will be used to help defray the band's travel costs for a trip during spring break.

To volunteer, call Michelle Albe at 467-0427 or Frank Bak-tis at 467-5806.

THE SEA COAST ECHO—THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1989-1B

SECTION B

Time Out

By Dena Bisnette

Football is dominating the sports news this time of year, but there are still a few other types of sporting events going on.

Whatever your favorite sport is, support your local team. You may not think the players can hear you cheering for them from your spot way up in the bleachers, but they can certainly see empty stands when you're not there.

In particular, I would like to remind sports spectators that support is just as, if not more important, to a team which isn't having a particularly good season.

I've covered winners and losers and, too often, I have seen teams which begin a season with packed stands and end the year with only a few die-hards watching.

This creates a negative impression, particularly on younger athletes, and in many cases can affect their attitude toward the game. Remember that the next time you are trying to decide whether to attend a sports event or not.

Mississippi Tennis Association will sponsor a fall circuit junior tournament Sept. 23 and 24 at Tennis World in Diamondhead.

Pro Lis Lagarde is taking registration for the USTA-sanctioned event, but the deadline is 5 p.m. Sept. 19. Fee is $12 per player, with boys and girls eligible in singles' 10, 12, 14, 16 and 18 divisions.

Registration is limited to 16 players per draw but there will be a feed-in consolation through the quarters.

To register, call Lagarde at 255-2525, ext. 300, or send a check with division information to 5300 Diamondhead Circle, Bay St. Louis, MS 39520.

Entries are still being accepted for the third annual Hancock County Bassmaster Open Bass Tournament, which will be Oct. 8 on the Pearl River.

Entry fee for the event is $50 per team and there is $2,000 in prize money to be awarded.

For more information on entering, contact Ronnie Ferrell, 467-4036, or Sid LeBlanc at 467-3234. Entry forms are also available at Jack's Marine.

Here's another one for the fishermen out there. The first Long Beach Speckled Trout Tournament will begin Sept. 29 and continue through Oct. 8 in Long Beach.

TL's Harbor Shop at Long Beach Harbor will serve as tournament headquarters, with weigh scales open from 4 p.m. until 5 p.m. each day. Final standings will be based on the total weight of the top five fish caught by each participant.

Cash prizes ranging from $1,000 for first place down to $100 for fifth place will be awarded, with 162-quart ice chest to be given to the angler with the largest single trout.

Entry fee is $25 and registration deadline is 8 p.m. Sept. 30. More information is available from TL's harbor Shop, 863-1448.

Cycles Plus Bicycle club has a 48-mile ride scheduled for Sept. 17. The route is the Talley Shaw Loop.

Anyone who wants to participate should meet at Wayne's Grocery at the corner of Cable Bridge and Vidalia Roads in Harrison County.

Speaking of bicycles, don't forget the St. Jude's Children's Research Hospital "Wheels for Life" Bike-a-thon in Diamondhead Oct. 7.

Stanley Robert is serving as the local chairman this year and is currently seeking both riders and sponsors to participate. He can be reached at 255-1278.

In Waveland, where the bike-a-thon will begin at 9 a.m. and is expected to continue until 3 p.m., riders and sponsors may register with Billy Adam, 467-4788.

The route for the Waveland ride will begin on Waveland Avenue, then take Central down to Coleman.

Rider sponsor forms are also available at Cycles Plus. The bike-a-thon is one of those good chances to enjoy yourself while raising money for a good cause.

The Sea Coast Echo is still interested in obtaining new contributions for our sports section. One area in which we were particularly interested at this time of year is junior high and elementary school football, but we would also like to include all of the many sports popular in this area.

Our sports deadline is noon Tuesday. For more information, call Dena Bisnette at 467-5474.

MSU ranked 25 in AP

Thanks to a spine-tingling 26-23 upset of Southern Mississippi in Hattiesburg, Mississippi State's football Bulldogs have been accorded national ranking.

Coach Rocky Felker's fourth Bulldog edition, now 2-0, is ranked No. 25 in the latest Associated Press college football rankings. It marks the first such ranking by Mississippi State since 1986 when the Bulldogs climbed to No. 13 with a 6-1 start. Mississippi State has also battled its way into the top 20 of The Sporting News, cracking the national sports publication's ratings at No. 19.

"We realize that it is early in the season and that we have to keep improving and prove ourselves every week of the season," said Felker. "But it certainly is nice to receive some recognition for your achievements. More than anything this is a credit to our players and coaching staff and the long hours and hard work they have put in to this season. We've had two good wins early in the season that give us a good base to build a successful season on. Right now we're focusing on another tough opponent, Georgia."

Mississippi State, following the first of two open dates in 1989, travels to Athens, Ga. Sept. 23 for a 1 p.m. Southeastern Conference matchup with Georgia. Coach Ray Goff's Bulldogs open their season this weekend, playing host to Baylor.

Bay High Tigers must control strong Pearl River line to win

BY DENA BISNETTE

When the Bay High Tigers defend their home turf against the Pearl River Central Blue Devils Friday night, runners and passers won't be the only people they're trying to stop.

Bay High Head Coach Dodd Lee said Pearl River's line will have to be controlled.

"They're real big, real strong, on the defensive line. They have a big offensive line too. They just have a strong front," Lee said.

"We'll definitely have to control them there. We're going to have to give a really good effort to do it."

Lee's Tigers not only have to fight the lines, but will have to deal with a varied offensive attack.

"They run some, they pass and they play a little power football," he said.

The game is the first district contest of the year for the 0-2 Tigers, but Lee said he does not feel it will create extra pressure on his players.

"The only pressure we have is the pressure we put on ourselves," he said, explaining that he does not plan to treat the game any differently because it is a district game. The Tigers, still suffering the effects of a virus that has kept three of the team's more experienced players from practicing much over the past two weeks, are "still working hard," according to their coach.

"We need something good to happen to us," Lee said. "These kids need some support. We're a little down on our luck and we need people to stand by us."

Kick-off time is 7:30 p.m.

THAT WAS A CLOSE ONE—Bay junior varsity Tiger Larrone Lewis hangs onto the ball as he eludes St. John defenders in a junior high game last week. Bay Junior High dropped a 7-6 squeaker to St. John, but plays again tonight at Pearl River Central. Kick-off time is 5:30 p.m. (Echo staff photo by Dena Bisnette)

Hawks renew old rivalry Friday when they meet Poplarville

BY D.C. HARVILL

The Hancock North Central Hawks renew an old football rivalry Friday night when they meet the Poplarville Hornets in the Hawks' stadium.

Both teams go into the non-district contest undefeated, with 2-0 records.

The Hawks and the Hornets have not played each other in several years due to schedule conflicts. When the teams met in the past it has been a rivalry-type game, Hancock Head Coach Irvin Favre said.

"We are a lot alike offensively. Defensively it is hard to tell what they will do. We will have to be ready for a multiple-type defensive, they run so many. We'll have to stop their big offense," Favre said.

The Hornets' big offense consists of running back Chris Mixon, tight end David Butler and quarterback Randy Morris, Favre said.

"Those three gained them 34 points last week against Lumberton," Favre said. The Hornets defeated Lumberton 34-7.

Though they beat Pearl River Central 26-7 last Friday, Favre said he feels his team only played half a game.

"We need to play four quarters instead of just two. The last two games they really didn't start playing until the third quarter. They played great in the second half. We need that kind of performance the entire game," Favre said.

The coach said he is stressing a team effort instead of individual effort.

If you have team effort, individual effort will come out of it, he said.

"There is no doubt this will be a good ballgame. Both teams are undefeated and it has always been a rivalry. I advise everyone to get to the stadium early. Last week against PRC, we had people waiting outside the gate 30 minutes after the game started," Favre said.

Kickoff is 7:30 p.m. Friday at Hancock North Central's Hawks stadium.

Bay Area Youth Soccer registration continues

Bay Area Youth Soccer will conduct registration tonight, Thursday, Sept. 14 at St. Clare School cafeteria from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

Registration will also be held on Sept. 16 at the Coleman Avenue Soccer Field from 1 to 3 p.m. Registration will be held next week on Tuesday, Sept. 19 from 7:30 to 9 p.m. at North Bay Elementary School and Thursday, Sept. 21 from 7:30 to 9 p.m. at Bay Middle School.

All boys and girls between the ages of five through 18 are eligible to register to play soccer. The registration fee for Recreational Soccer is $25 per youth.

Tryouts for an Under-14 Select Boys team will continue to be held by the Bay Area Youth Soccer Organization on Saturday, Sept. 16 from 9 to 11 a.m. and on Sunday, Sept. 17 from 4 to 6 p.m. at the Coleman Avenue Soccer Field.

Registration fee for Select is $40. Anyone not selected for the team will be eligible to play recreation soccer, a $10 difference in fees will be refunded. Contact Jerry Ross 467-9454, for any questions concerning the upcoming select registration.

Rocks prepare for East Central

Special to the Echo
By Tom Ackerman

Last week, the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws handily defeated their crosstown rivals, the Bay High Tigers, 34-6.

Tomorrow night, the Rocks face what will probably be their greatest challenge yet this young season—the East Central Hornets.

Some of the Rocks and their fans may remember last year at East Central. SSC was shut out 14 to zip.

"East Central has had a real turnaround in defensive play over the last couple of years," said SSC head football coach Ken Lyons, looking ahead to what his team will be up against tomorrow night at Rock-A-Chaw Stadium.

"They play very aggressively and they've got good pass defense," he continued. "We've got to make every effort to be mentally ready."

Apparently, the Rocks were mentally ready last Friday at Tiger Stadium. On the ground, the Rocks moved the ball for 195 yards rushing, and in the air gained 124 yards for a total of 319 yards on total offense.

Standouts offensively for SSC were Gary Ponthieux who gained 35 yards on one play before an injury slowed him down; Shannon Garrett, who gained 61 yards for the night; and Ken Booker, who added another 38. And, Rock quarterback Cedric Smith added 36 yards of his own.

Also important to the offensive effort against the Tigers was Galen Smith, who put SSC on the scoreboard in the first quarter with a 14-yard pass-run. Smith also was a standout on key pass plays and blocking.

On defense, David Alexander made his presence felt with four key tackles behind the line of scrimmage.

And the defensive secondary,

Paul Johnson, Shannon Garrett, Ken Booker and Noah Denton all had good coverage.

"The entire defense played well," noted Rock defensive coordinator Larry Ramsey, looking back at Friday's game.

Other standouts were Sean Sewell, Scott Peterson and Mark Carter, joined by sophomores Kerry Wittmann and Mike Davidge.

Looking ahead to tomorrow's game, Lyons remembered last year's loss at East Central.

"They just sort of slipped up on us. They play a good ball-control game, and they live off the option play," he said.

Defensively, the Rocks will also have much to contend with. "We've got to control the inside and outside veer and be ready for the quick passes," defensive coach Ramsey noted.

"They've got a good tight end, and they block well across the offensive line. We've got to be ready for the trap," he said.

Final decisions about starters were still being made early in the week.

"We're still experimenting with starters," Lyons said, noting that most positions were still up for grabs.

The Rock-A-Chaws will try to add win number three tomorrow night, with wins over Pass High and Bay High in their first two outings. Game time is 7:30 p.m. at the St. Stanislaus Stadium.

Raiders face Rankin Academy

The Coast Episcopal High School Raiders fell to the Wayne Academy Jaguars 46-0 last Saturday night in Waynesboro.

The Jaguars are the number one ranked 1A team in the Mississippi Private School Athletic Association and have compiled a 3-0 record this season. The Raiders are now 0-4.

Raider Coach Jack Hutchison said that the Jaguars were the best team they played this season. "Their offense was strong, and their backs had our defense backing up throughout the game," he commented.

Raider quarterback, freshman Tyrone Jones, played well in his first starting job, said Hutchison. Jones completed 13 of 25 passes for 149 yards.

Senior Jamie White had a good game punting the football. On five kicks he averaged 42 yards per kick.

This week, Coast Episcopal plays at home against Rankin Academy with a 1-2 record. Coach Hutchison said, "Once again we will play a good football team, but we are due to win one. We are hungrier than they are."

Raider home games are played on the St. Stanislaus field. Kick-off is at 7 p.m.

Wildcats take on Trojans

Pearl River Community College will take on the potent offense of the Mississippi Delta Trojans Thursday in Moorhead.

The undefeated Trojans bombed Jones 44-27 in their opening game and then flew by Itawamba 33-22 last week. The Wildcats have also defeated Itawamba (25-21) but they lost this past week to Hinds 17-9 in a crucial South Division matchup.

"This is probably the strongest team Mississippi Delta has had since 1981," said Mike Nelson, the Wildcats' head coach. "During their first two games, however, they have just outscored their opponents. They didn't necessarily stop their competition."

Nelson said the Wildcats' defensive secondary will have to get ready for an airshow.

"They (Delta) will strike quick and often," said Nelson. "They have several 70 and 80-yard touchdowns to their credit during the first two games."

The only good news for the Wildcats is the fact that the Trojans have also given up a lot of yardage.

"It may be a scoring duel," said Nelson, "but, I hope not."

Offensive guard Jay Stewart and linebacker Fitzgerald West are out for Thursday's game. Running back Michael Toefield and linebacker Robert Earl Jones, both key performers, are questionable for the Cats at this time.

The Wildcats led the Hinds' Eagles 9-7 until mid-way through the fourth quarter in Poplarville Saturday afternoon, before the Eagles took command and a 17-9 win. The division loss was a big setback for the Wildcats.

"We're certainly disappointed over our loss," said Nelson. "But, we can't dwell on the beating long or we'll have even more problems."

Michael Jordan will start this week at linebacker while Michael McDonald will get the nod at the defensive end spot. "We are hurting in some positions," said Nelson, "and the Thursday night game will not give us much time to get well."

The Trojans finished 3-7 last year while losing to PRC 14-3. Delta has not defeated the Wildcats since the 1973 state championship game.

Holden Day tickets available

Tickets are being sold for Pearl River Community College's "Dobie Holden Day," set for Saturday, Sept. 20.

The event is being held to honor the former Wildcat coach and to raise money for an endowed scholarship in his name.

A full slate is planned for those who attend the program, including an introduction of the 1989 Wildcat football team, performances by the band and "River Magic," a steak dinner and guest speakers.

The speakers include former players Gene Gatwood and Bobby Weaver, and former assistant coach Lewis Murray. Members of Holden's family (his wife, Earlena, and son, Thomas) will also be in attendance.

The day in Holden's memory will begin at 3 p.m. in Marvin R. White Coliseum, where guests will have the chance to socialize and view PRC memorabilia until 5 p.m., when dinner will be served in the cafeteria.

The day will conclude with the PRC-Gulf Coast Perkinston game at 7:30 p.m.

Tickets for the event are $50 each. For more information call the Development Foundation Office at 795-6801.

JV Rocks log first win

Special to the Echo
By Tom Ackerman

Things were looking pretty dismal for the St. Stanislaus Junior Varsity Rock-A-Chaws Tuesday as they opened their 1989-90 campaign, facing the Pass High JV Pirates at the SSC Stadium.

After leading for most of the game, the Rock offense began to crumble in the face of a few defensive adjustments by the visiting Pirates.

The Rock-A-Chaws saw their 8-0 first half lead dwindle as the Pirates moved six points on a TD; another six on another score; then the Pirates were up 12-8.

With only 10 seconds left on the clock, Rock JV quarterback Bill Dreher hauled back and hurled a bomb to the waiting hands of receiver Mickey Quinlan. Paydirt! Quinlan connected and ran the distance to give the Rocks a 14-12 win as time ran out.

Playing two 15-minute halves, the Rocks had moved the ball successfully through most of the first period, coming within inches of a score five minutes into the game on a long keeper by quarterback Dreher, only to lose possession on a goal line fumble.

But with 4:49 left in the first half, Rock carrier Tate Thrifley ran the distance to put SSC up 8-0.

In the second half, the Rocks couldn't buy yardage as the Pirates successfully shut down any offensive drive.

With 4:55 left in the game, the Pirates attempted a field goal, but the ball was off the mark.

Taking possession on their own 20, the Rocks moved the ball to the 31 on one down and a penalty.

With time running out and all other options exhausted, Dreher made the successful pass to Quinlan for the score to give the Rock-A-Chaws their first win of the season, 14-12.

Boaters needed for island cleanup efforts

The Mississippi Marine Trash Task Force is looking for a few good boaters.

The task force is presently in the process of organizing its annual Mississippi Coastal Cleanup and additional coast boaters are needed to assist in their efforts.

This year's cleanup is scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 23 beginning at 9 a.m. Volunteers will be cleaning selected mainland and island beaches and recording data on trash collected for a national marine debris database.

This year, for the first time, approximately 65 miles of beach on the Mississippi islands Round, Petit Bois, Horn, East and West Ship and Cat are part of an "Adopt-A-Beach" program. Fifty-four of the 65 miles of beach available for adoption have been adopted.

Chris Snyder, task force spokesman, said that by getting volunteers to adopt the remaining 11 miles we will have every mile of Mississippi's barrier islands covered in the cleanup for the first time.

This will make Mississippi the first state in the nation to clean all its island beaches.

"Somewhere on the coast there are 11 boaters who have enjoyed Mississippi's waters and islands, who would now like to give us a hand in cleaning them up," Snyder said. "We just need to get together with them and this cleanup is the perfect opportunity."

The areas remaining to be adopted consist of six miles on Petit Bois; three miles on Horn; and two on Cat Island. The majority of these areas are located on the gulf side of the islands and will require larger boats and more experienced captains, Snyder said.

Groups may adopt a mile segment of barrier beach for one year. Adopters agree to clean the beach three times during the year: once during the "Take Pride Gulf Wide" cleanup, once during an organized spring cleanup and once at the group's discretion.

The adopters are responsible for their own transportation to and from the islands and returning the trash to the mainland.

The task force is also looking for individuals with boats who want help, but are not part of a group or interested in adopting a beach.

"Last year we cleaned up less than half the number of miles of beach as scheduled for this year and we picked up over 45 tons of trash. The logistics involved in both transporting the large numbers of people involved and the resulting trash are enormous and we need all the help we can get," Snyder said.

Thousands of boaters have used Mississippi's waters and beaches, free of charge, for years. These beaches now need our help," he said.

Anyone with a boat capable of shuttling people and trash to and from the islands is requested to help. Individuals who are interested should contact the island coordinator. Petit Bois, Horn: Doug Hunt, 875-0074; Cat Island: Dianne Hunt, 385-5860 or Chris Snyder, 385-5860.

Bassin' with the pros

Earl Bentz
Steve Price

They're just hooks with weighted lead heads and skirts of thin rubber strands. They don't look like much, but all jigs do is catch bass by the boat full.

Or do they? Are all jigs created equal? "Not really," explains top bass fishing angler and Evinrude Outboards Pro Staff member Denny Brauer, who not only fishes jigs regularly but who also designs them.

"Jigs may all look basically the same," says Brauer, "but subtle changes in their design can really make a difference in their effectiveness. Many of these changes have just been developed in recent years, too, although jigs are among the oldest fishing lures used by man."

Because most jigs appear so similar, Brauer offers these suggestions when purchasing one for use this season:

"First, look at the hook," the Evinrude pro advises. "This is the most important part of a jig because it's what catches and holds the bass. The hook should be wide. That is, the gap between the barb and the shaft should be open. My favorite size is 5/0, and it is satisfactory for both largemouth and smallmouth."

"Next," explains Brauer, "make certain the jig has a good weed guard. If you fish a jig without a weed guard, you won't cast it into brush or heavy cover for fear of snagging, but that's where the fish live."

"I prefer a bristle weed guard because it can be adjusted easily and doesn't interfere with hook-setting. Plastic weed guards are not as effective."

Jigs are made in a variety of weights, and Brauer likes a 3/8-ounce size best for overall fishing. A jig this size can be made to fall fast or slow depending on the size of a trailer put on it.

"I always fish a jig with either a pork or plastic trailer on the hook," he notes. "In fact, I can't really remember ever fishing a jig without one. I prefer the pork chunks that are available in tackle stores, because using one seems to transform an ordinary jig into a true big-bass bait."

"The larger the pork chunk, the slower the lure falls," Brauer continues, "and since most strikes on a jig occur when the lure is falling, it's important to pay attention to how fast your jig drops. The colder the weather, the slower you want the lure to fall."

Brauer prefers very basic skirt colors, such as black and brown. He believes the lure imitates a crayfish in the water, which is why bass hit the lure so readily.

"Jig fishing is similar to worm fishing," he continues.

"You have to create action by moving your rod tip. Strikes are usually more subtle than with a worm, so you have to stay alert."

If you plan to store your boat for an extended period of time, treat your gasoline with a fuel stabilizer such as OMC's 2 + 4® Fuel Conditioner. Adding a stabilizer helps prevent the formation of gum and varnish deposits in outboard and stern drive fuel systems and also absorbs moisture in the fuel system created by condensation.

All bass jigs are not the same

ON ETV

FARMER AT 101

"Farmweek" reminisces about the good old days when ETV's weekly agricultural news program visits with 101-year-old Jones County farmer Ed Graves at 7:30 p.m., Monday, Sept. 18 on Mississippi ETV.

Graves, who was a dairy farmer for more than 46 years and continues to farm by raising calves, will discuss his life as a farmer, as the son of a farmer and the father and grandfather of farmers. He will also share his recollections of the Great Depression and the many other hardships farmers have had to face.

Annual waterfowl season limits set by commission

Mississippi duck hunters will have much the same duck season this winter as last year, according to the Mississippi Department of Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks.

At an Aug. 29 meeting of the state Commission on Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks held at J. P. Coleman State Park in Iuka, it was announced that state waterfowl hunters will have a 30-day duck season and a three-duck bag limit.

This year's duck season begins Saturday, Dec. 9 and closes Sunday, Jan. 7.

The daily bag limit is three ducks and many include no more than two mallards (no more than one of which may be a female), one black duck, one pintail, two wood ducks and one redhead. The possession limit is twice the daily bag limit.

Hunters should know that the season on canvasbacks is closed.

For coots, the daily bag and possession limits are 15 and 30, respectively. State goose hunters will have an 80-day season this hunting period, a slight increase over last year.

The season on blue geese begins Nov. 13 and ends Jan. 31. The daily bag limit is seven. The possession limit is 14.

The season on white-fronted geese is 70 days, the same as last year. The season opens Nov. 23 and closes Jan. 31. The daily bag limit is two, and the possession limit is four.

Canada goose hunting has been increased this year to 54 days from last year's 40 days. The statewide season on these birds opens Dec. 9 and ends Jan. 31. The daily bag limit is two and the possession limit is four.

In the Sardis Zone, the daily limit is one Canada goose and a possession limit of two.

Goose hunters should know that the following areas are closed to hunting Canada geese: Ross Barnett Reservoir Zone; Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway Zone; the counties of Hancock, Harrison, Humphreys, Jackson, Leflore, Sharkey, Stone, Sunflower and Yazoo.

Washington County east of Mississippi 1 is also closed to Canada goose hunting.

State conservation enforcement authorities remind waterfowl hunters that shooting hours will be one-half hour before sunrise until sunset, unless further restricted on some state or federal areas.

Hunters should know that the point system is not being used this year to calculate any duck limits.

The conventional limit of three ducks in the daily bag will apply to all ducks except the merganser group.

This year the daily bag limit on mergansers is five, only one of which may be a hooded merganser. The possession limit is twice the daily bag limit.

Those hunting ducks and geese must have their shotguns plugged so that the guns are incapable of holding more than three shells.

Hunters age 16 and older are required to purchase a $12.50 federal duck stamp. In addition, hunters between the ages of 16 and 65 must have a $2 state duck stamp. A valid hunting license is also required.

As has been the case in past years, steel shot will be required for hunting all waterfowl species in every section of Mississippi. Shooters may not have lead shot in their possession while waterfowl hunting.

4WD tips for remote hunting areas

Small and big game hunting is popular with countless thousands of Americans, and some of the best hunting is found in remote areas.

That's why 4WD (four-wheel drive) has enjoyed steady growth with the nation's hunters.

These vehicles can provide access to areas that otherwise wouldn't be reachable.

Jeep offers some tips for hunters that will help them reach their off-road hunting destinations safely:

• In rough terrain, drive with the 4WD setting in Low Range and the transmission in first gear.

• Don't accelerate when going over obstacles. Just touch the throttle lightly to keep the engine running.

• If the engine stalls, start the engine in gear without the clutch. But use the clutch to avoid burning out the starter motor if the vehicle is in a tight bind.

• To stop the vehicle, simply turn off the ignition.

• If the vehicle starts to spin or slip, apply light throttle pressure to keep momentum. Keep foot off clutch.

• On a downgrade, allow the gears and engine compression to slow you down. Keep foot off clutch.

• Don't straddle large rocks. Maneuver tires on top of rocks and proceed slowly. Reducing tire pressure 3-5 pounds will improve traction and help avoid punctures.

• In sand, drop air pressure

10-12 pounds on conventional tires for better traction. Use High Range and second or third gear to maintain speed.

• In mud or snow, get out of the vehicle to check the depth. If it is deeper than the axles, chances are good you'll get stuck. If there is enough clearance, make sure the base is solid enough to support the vehicle and proceed at a moderate speed.

• When crossing water, check the depth and look for obstacles such as rocks and tree stumps. Drive slowly upstream in a diagonal path with the engine pointed away from the flow to minimize splashing.

• Avoid traveling alone, especially in unfamiliar territory.

• Stay on trails and areas approved for off-roading. Observe posted signs and receive permission prior to driving on private property.

• And always wear seat belts.

Accidents with firearms do not just happen. They are caused by ignorance or disregard of safety rules. Before going any further, learn the following Ten Commandments of Firearm Safety.

1. Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun.

2. Watch that muzzle! Be able to control the direction of the muzzle even if you should stumble.

3. Be sure the barrel and action are clear of obstructions and that you have only ammunition of the proper size for the gun you are carrying.

4. Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger; know identifying features of the game you hunt.

5. Unload guns when not in use. Take down or have actions open; guns should be carried in cases to the shooting area.

6. Never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot; avoid all horseplay with a firearm.

7. Never climb a fence or tree or jump a ditch with a loaded gun; never pull a gun toward you by the muzzle.

8. Never shoot a bullet at a flat, hard surface or water; at target practice be sure your backstop is adequate.

9. Store guns and ammunition separately beyond the reach of children and careless adults.

10. Avoid alcoholic beverages and other mood altering drugs before and during shooting.

Public Safety Laws

As population increases and hunting areas decrease in size and number, more laws become necessary. To protect people, wildlife and habitats, legal regulations include:

1. Prohibiting hunting while under the influence of liquor or drugs.
2. Prohibiting shooting from, upon, or across any public highway.
3. Prohibiting hunting on private property with a gun or dog without written permission from the landowner, or firing any gun without permission within the safety zone of 150 yards of a house or building.
4. Prohibiting shooting or carrying a loaded gun on the right-of-way of any road or public highway without permission of the landowner.
5. Prohibiting carrying a loaded gun in or on any motor-driven vehicle or any boat under mechanical power, including any snowmobile. Any unloaded gun carried inside a car or truck must be taken apart, or cased, or put in the trunk.
6. Prohibiting littering.

IN IT FOR THE GAME.

There is so much more involved in preparing to hunt than getting a gun, shells and a license.

At International Paper, a lot of preparation goes into managing our lands for hunting and recreational enjoyment.

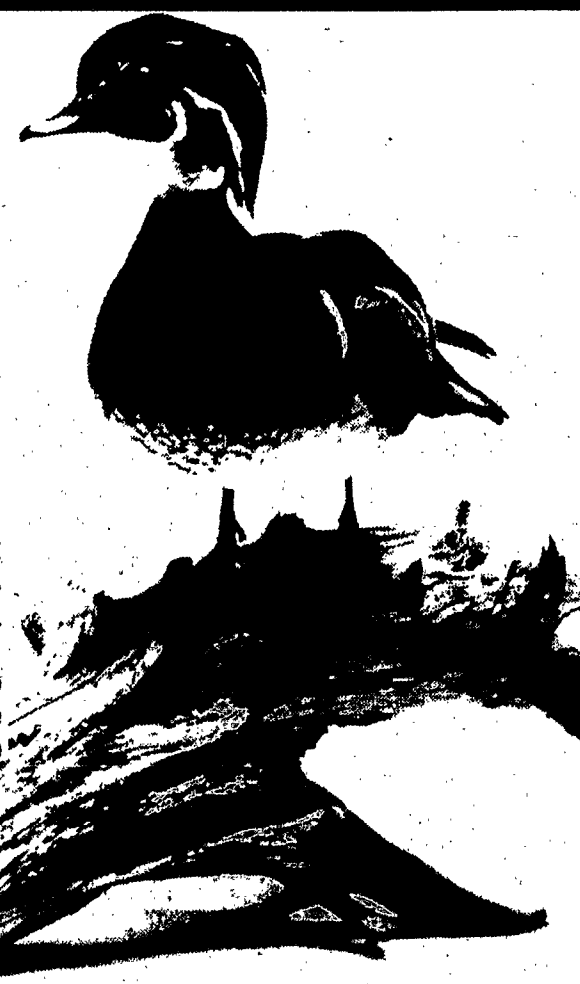

Company wildlife biologists work with foresters to combine wildlife management and timber operations. We conduct controlled burns, limit harvest cuts and manage streamside zones that contain hardwoods valuable to a number of wildlife species.

We work to make our forest home to many of those species, because we know that when you come there, you're in for the game.

Accurate rifle sighting crucial to successful hunt

It's early morning and you're only a few hundred yards from camp on opening day. A movement catches your eye and there, moving slowly through the trees and shadows, is the big buck you've been looking for all your life. You sit down, get a good rest and squeeze off a careful shot.

In your rifle, advise the experts at the Remington Arms Company. Here are a number of Remington tips for best results:

Do your sighting-in at a developed shooting range if you can. There are experts there to help you with any problems and the distances are accurately measured.

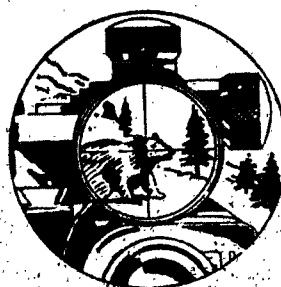

rest beneath the fore-end and the butt stock, to provide a steady and consistent hold as possible.

Fore-end rests should be soft and resilient enough to simulate the "give" of your hand. All rifles produce a certain amount of barrel whip or vibration that will cause them to shoot high when rested on a hard, solid surface. If you sight in that way, the rifle will invariably shoot low when you are using only your hand for a support.

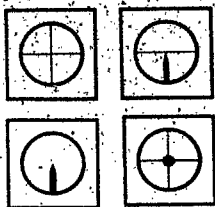

Begin by firing two shots for reference on the target, preferably at 25 yards. Make any adjustments that are necessary, then fire a three-shot group, using the center of the group to make any finer adjustments.

Finally, fire a three-shot group at 100 yards. Wait a few minutes between each group, to allow the barrel to cool; this also helps to restore your own concentration.

The deer kicks into high gear and you have time for only one more hurried shot before it disappears. You missed. Reaction sets in; wonder, disappointment, dismay, slowly subsiding excitement. Later, back at camp, you find a good excuse. A check shows the rifle is shooting 18 inches high.

Before you fire, run several dry patches through your rifle barrel. This is a safety measure, since congealed oil or grease remaining in the barrel from storage could cause excessive pressures and a potentially dangerous situation.

Sighting-in is a test of how accurately the rifle is shooting, not a measure of your personal shooting ability, so always use a

Tips for deer hunters

QUIET, PLEASE!

Deer are alarmed by unusual sound, sudden movement and scent. You need to constantly be aware of all three.

Steady, quiet walking may not spook deer, though they'll certainly be aware of it. But sudden movement in a fixed stand will be noticed immediately.

Scent is extremely important. Always try to keep the wind or air movement in your face and remember that warm air rises, so currents will go uphill during the warmer part of the day, downhill when it cools.

WHAT TO LOOK FOR

Like most wildlife, deer prefer areas with southern exposure. Cold, heavily shaded dark sections are generally avoided.

If you find an area without squirrels or song birds, chances are there will be no deer either. Snow cover shows tracks. In its absence, check soft ground and at all times look for deer droppings, buck rub marks, pawed up patches of ground, scrapes and well defined trails or runs.

Finally, remember that deer are smart enough to move away from heavy hunting pressure. Turn this to your advantage by working rugged remote areas where the average hunter won't bother to go.

HUNT SMART

Deer senses are definitely superior to ours but human intelligence can be the equalizer. This means we can combine a knowledge of the area and of deer habits, the ability to recognize signs of deer presence and movement, a preconceived plan of action and last but not least, hard work.

After all, it's the hunting that makes the sport.

Whitetail Deer

The animal lives best in forested or semi-forested areas. It begins life as a weak and helpless fawn weighing from five to eight pounds. After about four months with the mother, fawns find their own food. Male adult deer are called bucks, the females called does.

Antlers of a male whitetail deer consist of the main beam with points or tines branching off the two single beams. Usually only the bucks have antlers, but females with antlers have been sighted. The antlers are shed annually.

Ears are much smaller than those of the mule deer. The tail is wide and brilliantly white underneath. The whitetail is reddish in the summer. It turns grayish tan in winter months.

The deer eats only plants including leaves, shoots, buds, acorns, and other nuts.

Whitetails live in wooded brushlands and farmlands. They often live on the fringes of man's settlement. Whitetails are common throughout North America.

The whitetail is prized because of its great sporting and table value to hunters.

Due to wise management practices the whitetail is more numerous today than it was 100 years ago.

Hunters urged to avoid power poles

Hunting is a great sport. Recent surveys show more than 20 million Americans enjoy heading to the woods, creeks or open fields to hunt. With the opening of hunting season here in South Mississippi, Coast Electric Power Association offers this reminder to hunters.

"It's not unusual for electric power line equipment to be damaged by careless hunters," states Royce Shiyou, safety coordinator. "But this type of vandalism can be life threatening to innocent people. Our concern is for the welfare and safety of hunters or others who could come into contact with an energized power line knocked down by a target-shooter."

Shiyou emphasized the dangers of shooting at power poles. "Target practicing at electrical equipment is extremely dangerous. Not only is the shooter at risk, but a person walking yards away could become a victim if the power line were to touch him," he said.

Coast Electric maintains more than 3,800 miles of power line. Much of it lies in heavily wooded areas often used by hunters. Shiyou asks local hunters to assist Coast Electric in locating damaged or hazardous power line conditions.

"Anyone who sees an unsafe or potentially dangerous electrical line condition is asked to report it immediately," stated Shiyou.

"If everyone practices safety and remembers a few sensible precautions, this will be one of the safest hunting seasons ever," Shiyou concluded.

YOUR SHIP COMING IN?

A cartoon illustration of a ship with a sign that says "PRICED TO SELL!". Two men are looking up at the ship. The man on the left is wearing a suit and tie, and the man on the right is wearing a suit and a hat. The ship is a large, multi-decked vessel with a flag on the mast. The sign is a large, rectangular sign with the words "PRICED TO SELL!" written on it in bold, capital letters. The ship is coming in from the left side of the frame.

Dressing to learn

Public schools take a look at dress codes, uniforms

BY JANET MCQUEEN

A school works harder each year to provide an ideal learning environment—updating the curriculum, rearranging the furniture, maximizing space and choosing wall colors that are pleasing and conducive to learning.

When the right formula is found, the final ingredient is added—the student. In an effort to blend the student into the environment without allowing more attention to him than to the classes, dress codes are established and enforced.

Private and parochial schools have long required uniforms as the chosen apparel. In recent years, a growing number of public schools have selected uniforms which may be worn on an optional basis.

"I have always contended uniforms are the great equalizer," said Our Lady Academy principal Sister Jacqueline Howard. "It is a tremendous savings financially to the parents and as far as the girls are concerned, it is much easier to throw a wardrobe.

"As an administrator, I have found children act the way they're dressed...their manners are better at a formal dance than at one where they are wearing jeans and T-shirts," she said.

Gulf Coast Mental Health counselor Betty Spencer, coordinator of Children's and Adolescents' Services, finds uniforms may offer a great advantage in putting everyone on an equal level.

"Lately, too much emphasis is placed on the 'right shoes' (of the $70-$100 variety)," she said, noting children seek identification through 'group uniforms'.

"I date back to the 'zoot suits' and poodle skirts," Spencer said. "Western society has always chosen group uniforms, though they change regularly."

She stresses the importance of allowing individuality when a child tries to be 'different' with a bizarre hairstyle or pierced ear. "Let them go through the process, they will outgrow it. It is important not to over react to their efforts," she said.

over the years.

"Basically we expect clothing to be in good taste, with no slogans for drugs or alcohol allowed. We really don't have a problem with compliance," he said.

The possibility of selecting a uniform has not surfaced at a Bay St. Louis School Board meeting, although Magee would be supportive of offering one as an alternative.

"The suggestion would need to come from the parents, or Parent-Teacher Organization," he said.

Hancock North Central Schools have entertained the idea, although no formal action has ever been taken.

"Our students helped to write the dress code," stated Hancock North Central Schools Guidance Counselor Nancy Smith. "One thing they were really emphatic about were (being able to wear) walking shorts during the hot months. They approached the school board, secretary to the Dean of Students, Delores Richmond.

Coast Episcopal High School also has a flexible dress code, although uniforms are mandatory until grade seven.

"Our students mainly dress for comfort," said Mary Mizell, CES public relations chairman. Standard attire would include several large T-shirts and baggy jeans or knee length shorts. Wednesday is 'dress-up' day and girls usually wear dresses or uniform, particularly at the junior high or elementary level.

Most Our Lady Academy students, if given the choice, would prefer to continue to wear uniforms.

"It's just too easy to reach into the closet every morning and not have to plan what you're going to wear," said one junior.

Travis, Wynette, Milsap, Tucker headline 1989 fair entertainment

The 1989 Mississippi State Fair opens Wednesday, Oct. 4 at the Fairgrounds Complex in Jackson and continues through Sunday, Oct. 15.

A ribbon cutting at 5 p.m., Jefferson Street entrance, with Miss Hospitality officially opens the fair.

From 5 p.m. until 11 p.m. Oct. 4, the fair hosts opening day "Sneak-a-Peek" offering unlimited rides for one low price of $8. Admission is $1 and parking is $1. Children 5 and under are admitted free.

"It's time for one of Mississippi's major events," said Agriculture Commissioner Jim Buck Ross, chairman of the Fair Commission, which sponsors the fair.

"We think we've got a top lineup not only in entertainment but in everything," said Billy Orr, manager of the fair and the Fairgrounds Complex.

"Orr said, 'Last year almost 572,000 people visited the Mississippi State Fair. With good weather, we expect the numbers to be significantly increased this year.'

Fairgoers should especially enjoy the many events with animals like the Coca-Cola-Petting Zoo and the Mississippi Farm Bureau Pig Racing on the Midway," said Tommy Strickland, manager of livestock.

Strickland said other activities involving animals include junior livestock judging.

A mile-long midway of rides and attractions presented by Farrow Amusement Company of Jackson returns for the 1989 fair.

The popular circus acts featuring a menagerie of animals and performers will also be back with daily shows on the midway.

Some nationally-known entertainers are set to entertain at the fair. They include Randy Travis/Tammy Wynette GMC Truck American Music Tour at 7:30 p.m. in the Mississippi Coliseum Thursday, Oct. 5; 38 Special at 7:30 p.m. in the Coliseum, Saturday, Oct. 7; Folgers/Citrus Hill Super Sunday, featuring Ronnie Milsap, Tanya Tucker, T. G. Shepherd and Jerry Clower at 2 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 15 in the Coliseum.

Tickets are required for all Coliseum shows. The Randy Travis/Tammy Wynette GMC Truck American Music Tour show is $17.50 per ticket while tickets for the 38 Special Show are $15.

Tickets for the Folgers/Citrus Hill Super Sunday concert are $13 and $10 with a Folgers or Citrus Hill container or label. Parking is $1.

All advance tickets for Coliseum shows include free gate admission. Tickets are available at Be-Bop and the usual out-of-town outlets.

Free entertainment in the Budweiser Pavilion includes Billy Joe Royal performing Oct. 4; Vern Godson, Oct. 5; Roger & Sapp, Oct. 6; Johnny Russell and the True Value Regional Showdown, Oct. 8; Soul 11 Soul, Oct. 9; Patty Loveless, Oct. 10; Eddie Rabbitt, Oct. 11; Jerry Reed, Oct. 12; Asleep at the Wheel, Oct. 13 and J. D. Sumner and the Stamps' Quartet, Oct. 15.

With the exception of the True Value Regional Showdown and the Summer Gospel group, all shows are at 7 and 9 p.m. The Showdown is at 2 and 6 p.m. and the Gospel Group sings at 2 and 4 p.m.

Other gospel groups Oct. 15 include Tim Frith and the Gospel Echoes at 1 p.m., Johnny Welborn at 3 p.m. and the Bible Echoes at 5 p.m.

Daily free entertainment on the Clarion Ledger Sound Stage offers Jean Savoie and the Bayou Ramblers and a host of others performing daily. Check daily schedule for times.

Additional attractions feature the Mississippi State Fair Championship Fiddlers and Liars Contest, cane mill and biscuit making, pie baking, stockdog trials, mule and horse pulls.

Midnight Madness is scheduled from 11 p.m. until 3 a.m. Oct. 6. It offers unlimited rides for the low price of $9. Admission is $1 and parking is $1 per car.

Other attractions include a display of antique cars, engines, grist mills and antique tractors in the Trade Mart along with a special hobby exhibit by Maureen Harris, the Magnolia Fine Arts Competition and a pie baking contest and new to the fair this year, Seniors' America Day.

The Magnolia Fine Arts Competition returns to the fair for its second year and is open to all Mississippians 18 or older. Art work must be the exhibitor's original work in the special medium.

Youngsters in grades K-12 can participate in the school entries division of the competition.

For details, call Sharon Richardson or Anne Enochs at 353-2798 or the Coliseum office at 961-4000.

Cooks can participate in the Crisco American Pie Celebration Friday, Oct. 6 to find the state's best pecan pie. The winner competes nationally. For details, call Margaret Edwards at the Coliseum office, 961-4000.

Seniors' America Day presented by Super D Drugs is scheduled Oct. 11. Admission for 55 and older is free from opening of the fair until 6 p.m., and parking is $1 per car.

Kids Day at the fair is scheduled on Oct. 13. It includes reduced prices for rides and shows from 11 a.m. until 6 p.m. Parking is $1 per car. A book of 20 ride coupons, a $10 value, may be purchased for $8.

Advance admission tickets to the fair are available at the Coliseum Box Office and all Trustmark Banks' full service offices throughout the state until Oct. 3. Advance tickets include five tickets, a $10 value, for $6, age 12 and over. Five tickets, a $5 value, for $3 for ages six through 11.

Regular admission prices are $2 for ages 12 and over, $1 ages six through 11 and five and under are admitted free.

From 10 a.m. until 12:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, admission to the fair is free. Another daily special includes admission of a busload of fairgoers and parking for $10.

Habitat for Humanity receives home, property

Habitat for Humanity, the non-denominational ministry devoted to building houses for the working poor, is the recipient of a home and a parcel of property in Pass Christian.

The family home of Lewis Sinclair, now of Atlanta, and his sisters, Eleanor L. Sinclair and Alberta S. Butler, both of Long Beach, was recently donated to the Harrison County Chapter of Habitat.

A dedication ceremony honoring the Sinclair family for their generosity and support will be held at 2 p.m., Sept. 17 at the Sinclair Home, located at 229 Leovy Avenue.

The event will coincide with Habitat International's Day of Prayer and Action. The public is invited to attend.

Presently, the Sinclair home will be utilized to provide temporary, emergency housing for needy families awaiting the construction of permanent residences by Habitat volunteers. The house will also serve as an office or home base for Habitat, said Ed Ayotte, president of the Harrison County chapter.

Also in recognition of Habitat's contribution to eliminating substandard housing in the community, Trinity Episcopal Church has donated a parcel of property on Henderson Avenue. A dedication ceremony honoring the church benefactor is slated on its 'Outreach Sunday,' Sept. 24 at Trinity.

Habitat for Humanity, Inc., is a non-profit Christian housing ministry dedicated to helping poor people improve the conditions in which they are forced to live. Christian people are challenged to practice the Economics of Jesus by establishing a local 'Fund for Humanity' at each project location. This fund, created from gifts and non-interest loans, serves as capital for building houses.

Construction is a cooperative effort involving both volunteer workers and recipients of the houses. Houses are sold to families on a no-profit, no-interest basis. The capital, originally used to build the house, is returned to the Fund for Humanity through the family's monthly payments over a 20 or 25-year period. This money is used to build more houses either in the same area, or elsewhere, as the local Habitat committee decides.

Currently there are hundreds of Habitat projects in the United States as well as in 24 countries overseas.

SSC Key Club elects officers

The officers of the Key Club at St. Stanislaus High School for the 1989-90 school session are Marc Distefano, president; Paul Johnson, vice-president; John Estay, treasurer; Robert Schutt, recording secretary; and Noah Denson, corresponding secretary.

Senior Sammy Russo is lieutenant-governor of Division 14. There are 55 members in the St. Stanislaus Key Club, and Brother John Hotstream serves as faculty moderator.

Mark Distefano and Sammy Russo attended the 46th Annual Key Club International Convention in Orlando, Fla. from July 4-6. Theme for this year is "Develop Within...Share Throughout" which calls upon

Key Club members to stress the program's goals of individuality, educated leadership, productive citizenship, and worthwhile service to people in the home, school and community as well as within themselves.

The St. Stanislaus Key Club will promote the program by working with the elderly, helping retarded citizens and involving themselves in community clean-up projects.

Key Club International, whose 125,000 members in 3,700 clubs worldwide annually provide more than six million hours of service, is the world's largest high school service organization. The St. Stanislaus Key Club is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Gulfport.

Hille attends USM seminar

Jo Ann Hille of Bay St. Louis participated in the Mississippi Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association Continuing Education Seminar at the University of Southern Mississippi

Aug. 5-8.

This intensive 35-hour course included seminars in haircutting design and skill, hair coloring, skin and nail care and salon management.

CLUBS, AUXILIARIES

Pass Christian Garden Club

The Pass Christian Garden Club held its first meeting of the fall season on Sept. 7 at the Hancock Bank Civic Center. At the conclusion of the business meeting, the club was honored to have Mary Jo Sternberg, a graduate of Tulane, the former owner of the Purple Lantern Gift Shop and vice chairman of National Gift Interest Board, speak on "Culinary Herbs, A to Z and Edible Flowers."

As an introduction to her program, she made a plea for everyone to stop using insecticides which are harmful to humans and are polluting our air and soil.

She mentioned some herbs that could be used to impart various flavors which might be more beneficial for people on salt-free and sugar-free diets, i.e. substitute basil for salt and marjoram for sugar. She reiterated that much of the foliage of the herbs could be used for decorative purposes both for food garnishing and flower arranging.

Samples of many of the available herbs were distributed to the audience to enable them to enjoy the various fragrances and to examine the plant material at close range.

Some of the edible flowers she mentioned were nasturtium, pinks, carnations, tulips, day lilies, violets, marigolds, bibiscus, hollyhocks, roses, rose hips, etc. However, it is advisable to remove the stamens of the larger blossoms before eating them.

She stated that it was advantageous to plant roses in herb and vegetable gardens. This is called "companion gardening" and helps the vegetables to be more insect resistant and at the same time helps to eliminate blackspot on the roses.

The hostesses at the tea table were Mrs. Herman Rolfus and Mrs. Marvin L. Johnson.

The next meeting will be Oct. 5 at the Hancock Bank Civic Center. The speaker will be Nancy Freeman, extension home economist, Harrison County Cooperative Extension Service. Her topic will be "Container Gardening."

Most parents, whether employed outside the home or not, need help with child care. Parents should not feel guilty about leaving their child in the care of others, but they should recognize that they are still responsible for their child's needs and healthy development.

If you are looking for someone to help care for your child, their location, the hours they are open, the ages of children they accept, and other details that are important to you.

Try to find care that is available when and where you need it. Be sure that the fee fits your budget and check on sliding fees (fees based on your income) and income tax rules. For information call your local Internal Revenue Service.

well as plenty of rest and exercise?

Are things going smoothly? Are the children content? Is the noise level too quiet or too noisy? Everybody has good and bad days so you might need to make a second visit.

Take your child along to see if you both agree that this is a good place for your child to be while you are away.

The selection of good child care is the first and most important step, but you still need to be actively involved.

* When you take your child to a new care giver, plan to stay for a while to make the adjustment easier.

Day care for children

* Be there on time at the end of the day so that your child will not become fearful of being left there alone.

* Talk with your child about some of the things that happen while you are apart. This gives confidence that you really do care and are thinking about him during the day.

* Make a special effort to talk with the person caring for your child. Express your appreciation and compliment the care giver on the progress you child is making. Tell them that knowing your child is receiving excellent care relieves you of worries so you can be a better parent and do a better job at work.

* Tell the caregiver about experiences in your child's life and ask how things are going at school. Do this regularly. Do not wait for a problem to develop. Do not assume that everything is fine—ask!

Children need love, guidance and support from their parents. This doesn't mean that they need all of the parents' time. Parents have rights, too, and need some time for themselves.

Your child will be happiest when you are happy as an individual, happy with yourself and the way you combine the many roles in your life. If you are feeling guilty and pressured, you are likely to reflect these feelings in your relationship with your child.

The time you do spend with your child needs to be quality time, time when you both share feelings and talk about what is really on your minds, time when you feel close and loving.

If you do a thorough job of investigating the sitter or day-care center before you decide to entrust your child to them, and if you remain involved in what goes on during the time your child is away from you, then you should both have good experiences with the arrangement. The time you have together can then be meaningful and rewarding.

watch the plants for red spider, aphids and white fly.

As pot plants, hibiscus do well in a coarse, porous mix with a pH of 6.0 to 6.5. A suggested potting mix consists of equal parts of soil, sand, peat or soil, perlite and peat moss.

Many Mississippi gardeners with hibiscus in their yards or on their patios have begun to wonder if the plants can be left out or need to be brought in for winter protection. The plants are sensitive to cold and must be brought inside. This presents a problem when the plants are large and space is limited. Indoors, the plants require the sunniest location possible.

Hibiscus can be propagated by seed, cuttings grafting or layering, but they do not come true to type from seed. Rooting vegetative cuttings may be the solution to gardeners with large plants and no place to put them.

While the weather is still hot, take 4- to 5-inch cuttings from parent plants and place the cuttings in a mix consisting of one-third sand and two-thirds peat moss. While a rooting hormone isn't required, its use may speed rooting which should take place in 35 to 40 days.

the year as small flowering pot plants.

Hibiscus plants make excellent patio plants in the South because they are tolerant to high temperatures and full sun.

The highly colorful flowers, usually borne singly in the leaf axils range in color from vivid reds to white to various shades of yellow and orange. Flowers can be single or double and last only one day. The flowers when cut in the morning may without water remain open without wilting for several hours.

Hibiscus plants flower best under intense light and long days. Most consider the plant a moderate feeder. It is critically important that the plants never be allowed to dry. Drying leads to flower bud and leaf drop. Not without their problems, perennial border also are related to okra and Rose of Sharon.

It required a move to the Deep South (Louisiana) for me to be introduced to two other very popular members of the same plant family—cotton and hibiscus. Again, the flowers are strikingly similar, perhaps not in color but certainly in structure; they have five petals and the anthers united into a tube.

Hibiscus were to me something exotic and tropical, almost always associated with orchids and, of course, Hawaii. It was a pleasant surprise to find the plants as common yard shrubs in Baton Rouge, though they froze every winter I was there. Today hibiscus are even more popular because they are available throughout most of

be very careful to select the best care available.

There are several child-care options available today. One type is not necessarily better than another, but you must make definite choices based on your child's needs. The types of care are: sitters, day care in the care giver's home, nursery schools, kindergartens and Headstart.

Where they came from, originally I have no idea, but someone must have planted those three Rose of Sharon bushes along the east wall of the garage. We sort of grew up together—those plants and me.

Every summer they'd put forth those pinky-lavender blooms, and every spring there were a million little plants coming up everywhere in the yard from the seeds. Today I have a row of Rose of Sharon bushes in my yard. All are volunteers from a neighbor's shrubs that unselfishly dump seeds in my yard every year.

As a boy, I had no idea that the okra grown next door by that Georgia lady, Blanche Bell, whom I mentioned in a recent article, and the Rose of Sharon were closely related and members of the same plant genus, but they are.

Also unknown to me at the time, though I should have suspected something because of the striking similarity of the flowers, was that the hollyhocks that bloomed every summer in

Expanded instructional programming offered on Miss. Educational Television

School will be back in session on Mississippi ETV Monday, Sept. 18. Fifteen new series have been added to ETV's daytime instructional schedule for schools, and two other series have been expanded with new episodes.

The new additions to the schedule include one new art series for grades 5-8; an accounting series for grades 7-12;

Two health series: one on drug abuse prevention for grades 5-6 and one on childhood development for grades 9-12;

Three reading/literature series: storytelling from great books for grades 5-6, a study of Shakespeare for grades 9-12, and short story dramatizations for grades 9-12;

A trigonometry series for grades 10-12; a series about earthworm dissection for grades 7-12; a biology series about cellular respiration for grades 10-12;

A 20th-century history series for grades 11-12; a series about major legal cases and concepts involved in protecting minority rights under the constitution for grades 7-12;

Two vo-tech series for grades 7-12; one in auto shop safety and one in construction technology;

And one staff development series for teachers and professional staff: "The Effective Teacher" presenting practical application of extensive current and past research.

"Reading Rainbow" is sporting 10 new programs in addition to the 60 already in existence, and "French in Action" has been expanded to include 26 additional programs.

Mississippi ETV broadcasts 35 hours of instructional television programming each week during school months. The hours from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday, are set aside for the broadcast of programs for various curriculum areas for the kindergarten level through 12th grade.

Staff development programs are available for professional staff, and ETV's instructional services division and engineering division offer a variety of services to assist teachers in the use of educational television in the classroom.

Services include workshops at no cost for schools or school districts and technical consultation in the areas of equipment purchase, field strength measurements and troubleshooting.

Teacher guides for most of the series are available from Mississippi ETV and contain program synopses and lesson-planning suggestions for the proper use of each series.

A Tape Duplication Service is also available at ETV whereby videocassettes of many instructional series are available for purchase.

Each year, ETV publishes an ITV Resource Catalog, containing detailed information about all instructional television programming broadcast on Mississippi ETV: air times and dates, descriptions, grade levels, program titles and copyright restrictions.

The catalog also contains a "curriculum correlation," which is an index of various skills that are cross-referenced to instructional television series that teach those skills.

'Project Grandpa' resumes; seeks more volunteers

Twenty volunteer 'grandpas' began their second year activities Tuesday morning at three local children's centers.

Under the direction of staff members of the centers, the 'grandpas' assist the three and four-year-olds in learning their colors, letters and numbers.

Visits are made to the Child Development Center on Tuesdays; to the Methodist Children's Center on Wednesdays and to Headstart on Thursdays. The visits last from 9 to 10 a.m.

Anyone wishing to join the group of retired men may do so by phoning Brother Canisius at 466-3419 any evening between 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. Volunteers may choose the center at which they wish to work. 'Project Grandpa' is not affiliated with any church, school or organization, but seeks to enhance the learning environments at each location.

Last year's roster of volunteer 'grandpas' included the Rev. A. L. Hall, Gene Monti, Billy Curry, Gerald Spornio, Frank Cain, Rev. Robert Miller;

Joy Burnett, E. J. Welsh, Paul Phillips, E. Skelton, Al Green, Brother Canisius, Pete Brotmeyer, Bill McCandless, Brother Martin, Frank LaGarde;

Rudy Flashner, Brother Albert Guarino, Dick Shadoin,

Merlin Cripple, Brother Pascal, Father Charles Johnson, Tom Flynn, Jimmy Murray, Brother Bernon, Professor Roy Russell, Charles Montgomery and the late Owen McArdle.

Teacher workshops planned at Stennis resource center

NASA's John C. Stennis Space Center in Hancock County will host a series of teacher workshops in September and October that will offer tips on how teachers of lower elementary grades can effectively teach science and space exploration in their classes.

Teacher Resource Center

The Teacher Resource Center, located at the NASA center, will provide educators with new and innovative materials to better enhance the science curriculum in their classrooms.

Workshops will be held in the Teacher Resource Center located in the Stennis Space Center Visitors Center. September's workshops will be focused toward first grade teachers while October will be dedicated to instructors of second grade classes.

Teachers from schools in Hancock, Harrison, Jackson and Pearl River counties as well as St. Tammany Parish, La. will take part in the workshops. Workshops will be from 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. on Sept. 13 and 27, and Oct. 4 and 25.

"Workshops will concentrate on hands-on, participatory education," Cheryl Bennett, workshop coordinator, said. "New materials have been developed, and existing materials have been expanded to meet the growing demand the Teacher Resource Center receives each year."

Stennis Space Center's Teacher Resource Center began offering workshops such as these to kindergarten teachers in October, 1988. For the past two years, kindergarten teachers throughout the state have been teaching students through the use of learning centers set up within the classroom.

These learning centers contain hands-on activities which guide the students in learning about space and science through the use of sight, sound, touch, smell and taste.

During the workshops, teachers will participate in activities from a student's point of view. Work stations will allow teachers to build a space station from tinker toys, watch videos on toys in space, and piece together a space suit using a gallon jug, pump hoses and shoe boxes.

The resource center was established to give Mississippi educators an easily accessible source of instructional materials suitable for use in classes at all levels.

These materials reflect NASA research and technology development and relate to subjects such as life and physical sciences, astronomy, energy, Earth resources, the environment, mathematics, and career planning.

Educational publications are available to teachers at no charge. Publications include activity booklets, pamphlets, wall posters, photographs, lithos, lesson plans and NASA fact sheets.

The Teacher Resource Center is open from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. weekdays and from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturdays. For more information, call the center at 688-3338.

COMMUNITY SERVICES

Adult Literacy Education

Tutoring sessions for adults who want to learn to read and write are available through the Hancock County Library System. The program is open free of charge to any adult aged 16 and above who wants to improve reading skills to a grade five level.

Each student meets one-on-one with a certified tutor trained in the use of the Laubach Adult Literacy method. Student/tutor units meet at a time and learning center convenient to both. Learning centers for literacy are currently located in Bay St. Louis, Kiln, Waveland, Diamondhead, Dedeaux, Clermont Harbor and Pearlport.

Call the Bay St. Louis Library, 467-5282, for information. Persons who wish to teach adults to read as volunteer literacy tutors are also encouraged to call.

Senior Citizen Jobs

Seniors Job Registry, Russell Youth Court Building, 126 Court Street, Bay St. Louis, offers placement services to employees and employers.

The registry is a free community service provided by National Council of Senior Citizens Senior Aides Program funded by the Department of Labor through South Mississippi Planning and Development District.

The registry attempts to place seniors 55 years old or older in hourly, daily, weekly or monthly positions, according to Gertrude Sauer, coordinator.

Call 467-7945 for additional information. Office hours are 8 a.m. to noon Mondays through Fridays.

Blood Pressure

Retired Senior Volunteer Program sponsors free blood pressure testing Tuesdays, 9:30-11:30 a.m., American Legion Post No. 77, Waveland; Wednesdays, 10:30-11:30 a.m., RSVP office, Senior Citizens Center, Old Spanish Trail, Bay St. Louis.

Crow is Pen winner

Suzanne Crow, a senior at Hancock North Central High School, has been selected for honorable mention in the 1989 Pilot Pen Scholarship Program.

It is estimated there were approximately 50,000 participants who entered this competition from more than 1,000 high schools representing all 50 states. Suzanne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Crow of Diamondhead.

By earning honorable mention status, Suzanne finished among the top 250 entrants in this competition. The judges selected winning and honorable mention stories for each region of the country.

The Pilot Pen Scholarship competition was designed for juniors interested in a career in journalism.

VICE-PRESIDENT—Jason Cuevas, son of Bay St. Louis native Irvin Cuevas, has been elected vice-president of the 10th-grade class at Saint John Bosco High School in Bellflower, Calif. where he is an honor student. He is a grandson of the late Monroe and Margaret Cuevas.

Thrift Store

Waveland Conference, St. Vincent de' Paul Society operates a thrift store, Waveland Civic Center, Coleman Avenue, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Tuesdays, Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays. Proceeds benefit needy regardless of race or religion. 467-0703.

Legal Line

Volunteer attorneys answer legal questions from the general public from 6 to 7 p.m., first Wednesdays at 1-374-4160. The service is sponsored by Harrison County Young Lawyers, South Mississippi Planning and Development District Area Agency on Aging and South Mississippi Legal Services Corporation.

Owning Sears appliances can mean never having to wish you did!

Shop Sears for Great Low Prices...and buy with the confidence that we're just a phone call away, should you ever need service. Why bother with just any store with appliances, when there's no guarantee they'll even be around in the years ahead?

THE MOST IMPORTANT LETTERS WHEN IT COMES TO DRUGS

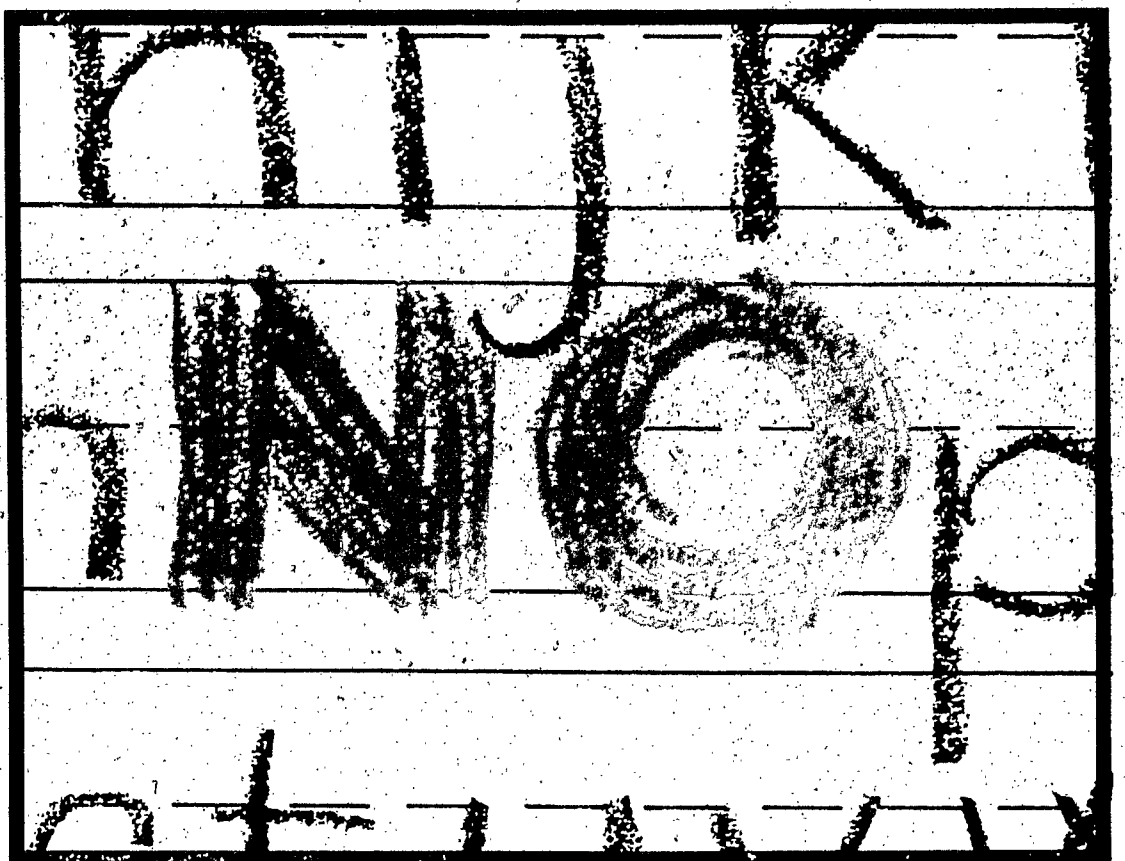

Teaching your children the ABC's is fine, but you also need to teach them about drug abuse and the special importance of the letters "NO." Teach them the drug alphabet early in life, and help them from becoming another statistic in America's fastest growing disease--drug and alcohol addiction. Let them learn their ABC's in school, but teach them their "NO'S" at home.
